

Hot Lunch Cut Finds Congress In Balky Mood

WASHINGTON (AP) — A election-year congress is showing little willingness to go along with President Johnson's proposed cuts in education and school lunch programs.

Johnson sent a message on health and education to Congress Tuesday and won praise for the goals he set of good health and education for all. But he also was put on notice he is in for a fight if he insists on certain economies.

In particular, congressional has been aroused by the administration's intention to cut $216 million in funds for schools in areas of federal impact, $101 million from the school milk and lunch programs and $12 million from land grant college funds.

"The President might as well forget any cuts in the impact and school milk programs," said Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee, after the message was read to Congress.

"President isn't running." "Speaking for my colleagues in the House," said Powell, "the President isn't running this year, but we are."

Similar views have been sounded in the Senate almost daily since Johnson's intentions were outlined in his budget message last month.

Nine senators sharply attacked the proposed cutbacks in lunch and milk programs Tuesday during the initial Senate hearing on the Agriculture Department's new $7 billion annual appropriation.

The administration's move was defended by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman as aimed at expanding the free lunch and milk programs for "millions of school kids who need it but can't pay for it."

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., asked if the federal government was trying "to set up some kind of a caste system" and Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., added that "means tests" would be humiliating to needy children and their families.

Powell Wants More
Freeman told the Agriculture Committee members that school officials would provide the needy children with a token or ticket to get free milk or lunch "just as it's done now."

"There's been a lot of loose talk about means tests," he said.

Powell's committee will play a decisive role in determining what kind of school legislation Johnson gets, and if he has his way, the cost would go up by at least $700 million over administration proposals.

Powell has told the administration he wants faster action on extending the reach of the Elementary and Secondary School Act by raising from $2,000 to $3,000 the income factor on which most of the money is distributed.

Johnson has proposed making the change in fiscal 1967, but Powell said he wants it to take effect in fiscal 1967, which begins July 1. It would boost the cost of the act, which was passed last year, by $375 million.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., High School students line up for their breakfasts as part of an experimental program of providing breakfasts for those students desiring to eat. It ties in with Tuesday's proposals by President Johnson in his education message to Congress that it establish a pilot program of breakfasts for students who start the day hungry. ## Heavy Fighting Flares:

Cong Shell Marines

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Two U.S. Marine companies ran into heavy fighting late today in their drive to clear Communist forces from a canal-laced peninsula 55 miles southeast of the North Vietnamese border.

The action flared up again after the Viet Cong shied from contact Tuesday with the Leathernecks and Vietnamese troops hunting them down in the rice-lands overlooking the South China Sea 12 miles southeast of the old imperial capital of Hue. Monday the Marines reported killing 40 Reds and capturing many weapons.

Marine headquarters at Da Nang said the Leathernecks suffered light casualties in the new fighting with the large Viet Cong force. Communist losses were not known.

The battle was taking place about six miles southeast of the Marine camp at Phu Bai.

Otherwise U.S. planes carried the brunt of the war against the Communists today. Only scattered skirmishes were reported from American and Vietnamese forces slogging through the jungles and rice paddies.

Air Force B52 bombers roared past slumbering Saigon before dawn to drop bombs on a suspected Viet Cong storage area near Bien Hoa, only 20 miles northeast of the capital.

Another flight of the eight-engine bombers from Guam pounded a Viet Cong troop concentration reported by intelligence in Phuoc Tuy Province, 55 miles east of Saigon.

Rely On Radar
Despite heavy cloud cover, U.S. Air Force and Navy fighter-bombers flew 34 missions against North Viet Nam, relying mostly on radar to lead them to an assortment of bridges, roads and storage areas between the 17th Parallel demilitarized zone and the Vinh area.

The U.S. Military Command announced that 109 Americans were killed and 747 wounded in the fighting last week, which included a fierce Viet Cong assault on a regiment on the U.S. 1st Infantry Division 30 miles north of Saigon Thursday. No Americans were reported missing.

A week before, 112 Americans were killed, 405 wounded and four missing, the spokesman said, adding 29 dead and 96 wounded to the toll announced last week.

Vietnamese losses climbed from 197 killed and 77 missing to 379 killed and 183 missing. Other allied casualties for Feb. 20-26 were put at 18 killed and 40 wounded.

Viet Cong casualties declined somewhat to 1,122 killed and 92 captured compared with 1,357 killed and 122 captured in the previous week, a spokesman said.

The U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division dropped a unit by helicopter in a mountainous area five miles southeast of Bong Son in a continuing sweep near the coast 300 miles northeast of Saigon. Six Viet Cong were reported killed in sporadic skirmishes.

Ambushes Backfire
A paratroop patrol captured one Viet Cong and killed two others in operations by the 101st Airborne Division's 1st Brigade northwest of Tuy Hoa, 240 miles northeast of Saigon. Another patrol killed two Communists in a close-quarter skirmish with a Viet Cong squad.

The Communists twice tried ambushes against South Vietnamese troops Tuesday in the central highlands near Pleiku, 235 miles northeast of Saigon, but a government spokesman said the attacks backfired. He said the Communists left behind 50 dead and 25 weapons and inflicted only "very light" government casualties.

According to the spokesman, the Viet Cong hit a 120-man militia company 10 miles north of Pleiku. The company sent off a patrol for reinforcements. A 350-man Vietnamese ranger battalion and platoon of armored personnel carriers answered the call. Another Viet Cong company attacked the column three miles short of its goal.

The rangers, well acquainted with the terrain, spread out and poured heavy fire on the Communists for half an hour. The other Viet Cong company badgering the militiamen heard the battle sounds and faded away.

The Viet Cong killed three civilians and wounded three in an attack on a Vietnamese outpost Tuesday night in Tay Ninh Province on the Cambodian border northwest of Saigon, a government spokesman said. The attackers were driven off by artillery without any losses in the 120-man militia garrison.

Kennedy Halves End Coin Lack

WASHINGTON (AP) — Those new half dollars — only 40 percent silver but still bearing the likeness of President John F. Kennedy — are expected to begin flowing into American hands within the next two weeks.

"We're trying to get them out as soon as possible," Robert A. Wallace, assistant secretary of the Treasury, said today. "We hope to begin circulating them in about a week or two."

Wallace, whose jurisdiction includes the U. S. Mint, is hopeful the new coins won't wind up the same way as the Kennedy half dollars containing 90 percent silver which the Treasury began minting in 1964. In fact, he hopes the new halves will bring the older ones out of hiding.

Through last Monday, 409,085,450 of the original Kennedy half dollars had been minted but despite efforts of the Federal Reserve System to place them in circulation they have virtually disappeared.

Why? Only theories can be advanced, Wallace said, and the best one is that they've become mementoes of the late president. Many — exact numbers are unknown — have gone overseas, he added.

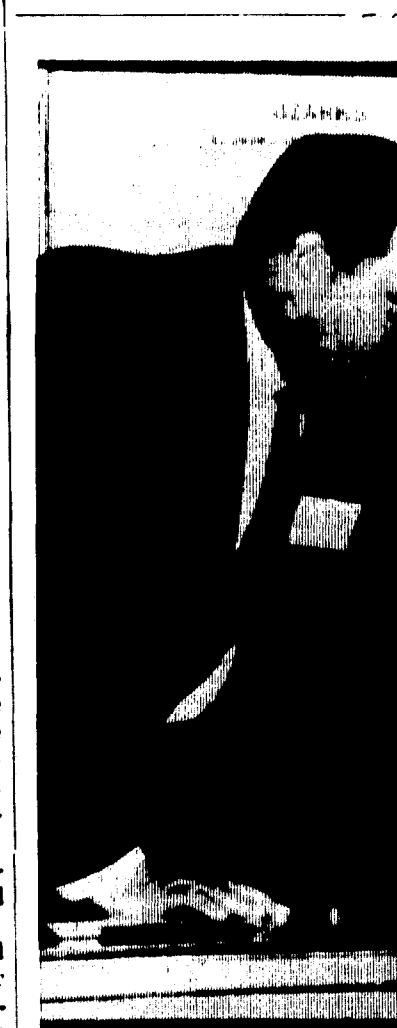

Wallace said this is an emotional rather than a rational response.

The Kennedy half dollar will be the "coin of the realm" for at least 25 years, he said. Existing law bars any change in coin design for at least 25 years and then only by an act of Congress.

Miss Eva Adams, director of the mint, said use of half dollars in change and vending machines also has contributed to increased demand.

Although minting of Kennedy half dollars containing 90 percent silver will cease when the new coins begin circulating, the Treasury feels enough of the original coins will be minted to keep them from becoming collectors' items.

Ghana Regime Ousts Soviet Advisor Force

ACCRA, Ghana (AP) — A forced exodus of foreign Communist advisers from Ghana was under way today. Plane-loads of Russians were being expelled and similar treatment was expected for Red Chinese advisers to ousted Kwame Nkrumah's government.

Eleven or more of the Soviet advisers were reported killed in the revolution last Thursday.

Two Ghana Airways turbojets left today with 130 Soviet citizens — technical assistance personnel and their families. Some Russians and Communist Chinese had preceded them in the past few days, but this was the first large group since Nkrumah was overthrown.

An airport attendant said those who left today arrived in five buses under army guard. Troops surrounded the terminal building while they went through customs and immigration. Soviet Ambassador G.N. Rodionov saw them off.

A spokesman for the Soviet Embassy said there were "less than 1,000" Soviet technical assistance personnel in Ghana including Soviet teachers. Other diplomatic sources put the number at 250 to 300.

Diplomatic sources said it was not clear whether Lt. Gen. J.A. Ankrah's military government would break diplomatic relations with Moscow and Peking. John B. Elliott, Ghana's ambassador in Moscow said Tuesday he had delivered a note to the Soviet government spelling out the position of the new government and the Soviets said they would consider it.

Ankrah, head of the National Liberation Council, said Monday that Ghana would return to a true nonaligned policy in foreign affairs.

The new government banned all political activities until further notice and said it would take "drastic measures" against persons engaging in such activity. The regime previously had disbanded Nkrumah's Convention People party.

In Moscow the Soviet Union maintained absolute secrecy on its dealings with Nkrumah, who arrived from Peking Tuesday. There were rumors that he would seek asylum in the Soviet Union, that he would join his wife and children in Cairo, or that he would go to another African country with a government friendly to him. Tanzania, Guinea and Mali as well as the United Arab Republic have condemned his overthrow.

Romney Demands New State Housing Body

LANSING (AP) — A state housing authority to serve low income families and improved relocation procedures for government - displaced families were demanded today by Gov. George Romney.

In a special message on local government sent to the Legislature, Romney cited "opportunity for decent housing" and "the right of people to be secure in their homes" as goals the state must meet.

A state housing authority, he said, is necessary to help meet "new demands on the state's already strained housing market." Without such aid, he said, "people with the smallest incomes will suffer most."

Such an authority would: —Maintain accurate data on total housing conditions in the state.

—Aid, consult, stimulate and cooperate with private development efforts and local housing commissions to meet specific situations.

—Develop methods of securing adequate low cost and senior citizen housing.

—Have authority to receive and spend private and government funds "to meet those needs that cannot be met except through government assistance."

Government Restraint
—Help the highway department prepare relocation plans for persons living in the path of freeway construction.

In both highway and urban renewal efforts, he said, "safeguards must be established to insure that government will act with restraint and compassion."

"No government or public agency has the right to dislodge people from their homes without accepting a reasonable degree of responsibility for their future housing needs," he said. Romney suggested state guidelines be established for local governments to follow in their methods of relocation.

Relocation and development procedures should require continuous government consultation with a neighborhood advisory council made up of residents from the affected area, said Romney.

No Project Veto
"The council would hold no veto over a proposed project, but would provide a channel for two-way communication between local officials and affected residents," he said.

In Detroit, a group called the West Central Organization has been critical of city officials for ignoring what it says are residents' needs in expansion around Wayne State University. The group met with Romney late last year to protest.

The governor said "recent events in the City of Detroit have focused statewide attention to an aspect (relocation) of urban renewal and highway construction programs which has all too frequently been overlooked."

He said the state should create an urban redevelopment review board with authority to review local relocation plans. The board could reject local plans.

Romney said the State Highway Department should be required to follow procedures similar to those he recommends for local government.

President Asks Transport Body Of Cabinet Rank

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson asked Congress today to create a department of transportation pulling together many activities now handled elsewhere, and to provide $700 million for a six-year highway safety program and $200 million for the supersonic transport plane.

In urging a 12th Cabinet post, Johnson said "America today lacks a coordinate transportation system that permits travelers and goods to move conveniently and efficiently from one means of transportation to another, using the best characteristics of each."

He proposed the development of such a coordinated system as a principal assignment for the new department.

In the area of highway safety, Johnson proposed mandatory authority for setting up federal standards if voluntary methods fail.

Another proposal in that area was study of the feasibility of separate routes for trucks and automobiles.

And the President called for action to promote safety at sea, recalling recent disasters involving vessels not up to modern American specifications.

In the supersonic transport section of the message, Johnson proposed a schedule that would provide for flight testing of a 2,000-mile-an-hour aircraft by 1970 and commercial production by 1974.

The President has indicated that he wants increased taxes on fuels used by general aviation, a new tax on air freight and a fuel tax so that operators on the inland waterway system would help pay some of the new program's costs.

Charge Candy Most Guilty

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Candace Mossler knows today how it feels to have a finger thrust at her face and hear the official voices of the State of Florida charge that "she is the most guilty of all, even though she didn't strike the fatal blow."

The prosecution, which put her on trial for her life, with her nephew, Melvin Lane Powers, in the 1964 slaying of her multimillionaire husband, added: "She was his aunt and he'd do anything for her."

Mrs. Mossler hunched down an inch or so in her chair but no trace of emotion flickered across her face. An illicit love affair with Powers has been advanced by the state as a motive in the slaying of her husband, Jacques Mossler, 69.

"There is no motive here," the defense declared in a climax to Tuesday's full day of final trial summation.

The case is expected to reach an all-male jury no later than Thursday.

Mrs. Mossler, who gives her age as 40, and Powers, 29, are accused of plotting to have him bludgeoned and stab her husband June 30, 1964, while she deliberately absented herself with four adopted children from her Key Biscayne apartment.

Senate Ballots 95-5 To Reject Morse Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey faces questioning today on the administration's Asia policies after Congress' overwhelming passage Tuesday of a $4.8-billion Viet Nam authorization.

Before approving the measure, the Senate crushed by a 92-5 vote an effort by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., to revoke a 1964 resolution which endorsed the use of force by President Johnson to combat Communist aggression in Asia.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee — leadoff man in the questioning of Humphrey at an afternoon closed session — joined the hard core of presidential policy critics backing the Morse move.

The House whisked the military supply measure through by a 392-4 vote. In the opposition were four Democrats, Reps. Philip Burton and George E. Brown Jr. of California, William F. Ryan of New York and John Conyers Jr. of Michigan.

Then the Senate wound up 15 days of debate by slapping down the Morse proposal. Joining Fulbright and Morse were Sens. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., and Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio.

The Senate's 32 Republicans voted solidly against the Morse proposal in an action Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen depicted as registering party opposition to the "Morse viewpoint."

Gruening offered an amendment to prohibit the use of draftees in Viet Nam, unless they chose to fight there. It was chopped down by a 94-2 vote, with only Morse supporting Gruening.

Fulbright For Morse
Gruening and Morse cast the only negative votes when the Senate passed the money measure 93-2. A compromise of minor differences between the two Houses remained before the bill goes to the President.

Fulbright, Arkansas Democrat who earlier had proposed the neutralization of Southeast Asia and an accommodation with Communist China, said in an interview he decided "right at the end" to vote for the Morse proposal.

"I approve of his (Morse's) sentiment," he said. "I wanted to give him a good vote." Fulbright said he regrets passage of the 1964 resolution which he sponsored at the time. He added it was passed after the Tonkin Gulf attack "but now you have an entirely different set of circumstances."

One reason he voted as he did, Fulbright said, "was because I didn't want to reaffirm the damn thing."

There was argument over whether the vote on the rider reflected approval of Johnson's course in Viet Nam. Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., said the action put the Senate "solidly behind the President."

White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers said Johnson believed the Senate had acted responsibly in rejecting the Morse proposal.

"The President welcomes and our fighting men and allies will gratefully approve the congressional actions of today," Moyers said.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said rejection of the Morse proposal was a vote to keep in effect, "for whatever constitutional force it may have," the 1964 resolution.

Several senators said their vote against the rider and for the money bill didn't mean they approve the way Johnson is running the war.

Fair Bull Fights?

DETROIT (AP) — Portuguese bullfighting, in which the bull is not killed is being considered as an attraction in the Michigan State Fair Coliseum.

Acting on a request from a Milwaukee promoter, Walter A. Goodman, general manager of the State Fair, said he was "considering the morality of it," before making a recommendation to the State Fair Authority Committee.

The bull is not killed in Portuguese fighting, but there have been objections on the basis of cruelty to the animal.

Six Freed Of Fraud Charges

DETROIT (AP)—Six of eight original defendants have been absolved of criminal charges in the operation of a chain of Detroit area weight-reducing salons.

Compulsory charges against the six were dismissed Tuesday on motion of the prosecution at a pretrial examination. The six were named coconspirators in the scheme.

Shay Foreman, 56, of Detroit, owner of Medic-Way, and Curtis Hepler, 36, of Livonia, his alleged assistant, remain under the charges.

All eight had been charged with conspiracy to defraud and to practice medicine without licenses in the dispensing of drugs and other activities.

Charges were dropped as they affected Michelle Russell, Clara Lee, Dorothy Chris and Joseph Sady of Detroit, Joe Blake of Royal Oak and Tommy Meyers of Dearborn.

For 4-Year Term:
E. A. Gosselin
In Council Race

A young Escanaba man who works on the railroad and owns and operates a business is the latest candidate to announce for the City Council in the election to be held Monday, April 4.

He is Edward A. Gosselin, 34, of 2223 23rd Ave. S., who is a candidate for the four-year term on the Council.

His announcement brings to four the number of candidates for the two four-year Council seats at stake in the election. The other four-year candidates are:

Councilmen Harold Vanlerberghe and Glenn Moreau, who are seeking reelection; and Mrs. Frank (Ruth) Neumeier of 1835 10th Ave. S.

Gosselin was born in Munising on Sept. 20, 1931, and moved to Escanaba as a young child with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Gosselin of 1315 1st Ave. N.

Korean War Veteran
He graduated from Escanaba High School in 1949 and for three years was employed by the A. O. Smith Corp. of Milwaukee as sales-service representative.

Entering the U. S. Army in 1952, Gosselin was a member of the Signal Corps and saw service in Korea during the conflict there. Discharged in 1954, he returned to Escanaba and was employed as a salesman for a time with the Northland Bread Co.

For the past 10 years he has been employed as a fireman-engineer with the Chicago & North Western Railroad. He is a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and of the Brotherhood of Firemen and Engineers; served as vice chairman of the latter Brotherhood and is active in the organization, including representation as a delegate to the Brotherhood's International Convention.

More Industry
He is a life member of the Amvets, is a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Elks and the United Commercial Travelers.

Gosselin is the proprietor of Skippy's Bar, 1837 3rd Ave. N., which he purchased in 1962. In announcing for the Council, Gosselin said:

"I believe a new and fresh approach is needed to encourage industry to locate in Escanaba. There just isn't enough being done for the people of all classes in the community—for improved recreation facilities and for a community center that could accommodate big conventions."

Escanaba has many good factors and favorable features, but there should be promotion of industries—including woods processing, development of ore shipping facilities, and efforts to have the Escanaba port qualify for federal assistance, he said.

Mr. and Mrs. Gosselin have one son, Perry, 9 year old. Mrs. Gosselin is the former Barbara Derouin of Escanaba.

A rattlesnake does not always rattle before striking.

Fulbright Try
At Asian Peace
Up To Peking

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration officials discounted as impractical today Sen. J. W. Fulbright's call for a broad agreement with Communist China to neutralize all of Southeast Asia.

They said the Chinese Reds repeatedly have refused even to talk with the United States about a settlement in that war-torn region.

U.S. policy makers are convinced that the Chinese Communist leaders believe in fact that continuation of the war in Viet Nam and even the threat of more general conflict in Southeast Asia is in their interest until such time as Communist successes can begin to bring the area under Red control.

Hence, Fulbright's proposal, made in a Senate speech Tuesday, is regarded by President Johnson's advisers as cutting across the current Peking doctrine and therefore having no prospect of practical application at this time.

Whether it will ever become possible, according to the view of these officials, depends on changes in the attitude of the Chinese Communist leadership. Some officials believe that the leaders in Peking, having suffered a variety of reversals during the past year or so, may now be confronted with a need for new policy decisions. But these officials also think that the result of a reassessment in Peking could be to launch Communist China on an even more dangerous course.

Fulbright, Arkansas Democrat who heads the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, told the Senate that the central issue in the Vietnamese war is a contest between Chinese and American power.

"The prospect for a lasting peace depends far more on a resolution of that issue than it does on the matter of who is to participate in a South Vietnamese government and by what means it shall be formed," he said.

"Applying historical experience," Fulbright declared, "it seems to me that the crisis in Southeast Asia can only be resolved on a lasting basis by the neutralization of the entire region as between China and the United States."

"Fearful as she is of American military power in Southeast Asia, China might be willing to purchase its removal by the removal of its own. It would seem to me highly advisable to indicate to the Chinese that we are prepared to remove American military power from all of Southeast Asia in return for similar withdrawal on her part."

U.S. officials said that in meetings between American and Chinese ambassadors in Warsaw and earlier in Geneva the United States over a period of 10 years has sought to bring up a number of subjects including disarmament, exchanges of news correspondents between the two countries and the problem of Southeast Asia's future. The response of the Chinese ambassador has always been that before any other problem can be taken up the issue of Formosa must be settled.

Well Over Quota

The Delta County Blood Bank, given nearly 200 per cent support in the opening day at Gladstone, is well on its way to setting a new record—if the blood contributions are equally generous in Escanaba today and Thursday.

Collections in Gladstone totaled 130 pints on Tuesday, the best showing ever made there. The quota for the day was 77 pints.

One hundred and forty-eight persons offered to give blood at the bloodmobile stationed at the James T. Jones School. Eighteen were rejected for various reasons of health.

Most of the donors were "walk-ins"—persons who had not made appointments but dropped in at their convenience. Forty appointments had been made and 33 were kept.

Gifts of blood are being encouraged with regards of trading stamps to the donors: 150 trading stamps to each donor plus the opportunity to win additional stamps at the end of the day. The four winners for the day in Gladstone were:

Leslie Bauman, 601 N. 7th St., Miss Jean Jarvis, 324 Michigan Ave., Alphonse Cretten, 559 N. 14th St., and Mrs. Milburn Nolan, 716 Dakota.

With contributions of 130 pints at Gladstone the goal of 307 pints for the three-day procurement clinic should be attained and perhaps exceeded, the Red Cross, sponsors of the Blood Bank, said today.

At Escanaba the bloodmobile is at the First Presbyterian Church. Today the clinic will continue to 7:30 p. m.

The schedule for Thursday is 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. Walk-ins will be welcomed. Appointments are unnecessary. Each donor will receive 150 trading stamps.

Wedding

Miss Mary Helen Lesatz daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lesatz, Gould City Road, became the bride of A2c Alfred George, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Domenski of Curtis, Monday at a 5 p. m. ceremony at Newberry.

The bride is a 1965 graduate of Engadine High School and the bridegroom is a graduate from Newberry High School in 1963. Mr. Domenski is presently station at Kincheloe Air Force Base and the bride will make her home at Curtis for the present.

Death Claims
Mrs. R. McKay

Mrs. Rena McKay, 90, of 1510 17th Ave. S. died at 1 p. m. Tuesday at the Pinecrest Medicare facilities where she had been a patient for four months.

She was born Jan. 27, 1876 in Germany and her husband John preceded her in death in 1939. She was a member of the First Methodist Church of Escanaba, Rebekah Lodge and the Auxiliary to the B. of R. E.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Douglas (Lila) Walker of Escanaba and Mrs. Andrew (Doris) Roddy of Milwaukee; one son, Leslie of Brighton, Mich., one stepson, Norman of Naubinway, four grandchildren and seven great grandchildren.

Friends may call at the Anderson Funeral Home from 4 to 9:30 today and complete funeral services will be conducted at 1:30 p. m. Thursday with the Rev. Konstantin Wipp officiating. Burial will be in Lakeview Cemetery.

Lenten Service
At St. Charles

High School students at St. Charles Borromeo Church in Rapid River are compiling the Bible services for the Church's weekly Bible services observed on Wednesday evenings during the Lenten season.

The theme topics have been selected from Christ's last words from the Cross. Tonight's service, March 2 will begin at 8 p. m. with Father John Vincent Suhr, pastor, conducting the service. The special text speaker will be Susan Callahan and her theme, "Amen, I Say to Thee, This Day Thou Shalt be with me in Paradise." Everyone is welcome.

Stations of the Cross services will be held Friday, March 4, 8 p. m.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Communist members of the U.N. Security Council are expected to press for quick action on East Germany's bid for U.N. membership but defeat of the application is considered certain.

Polish Ambassador Bohdan Lewandowski delivered the application from East German Chief of State Walter Ulbricht to Secretary-General U Thant Tuesday. It was accompanied by a memorandum from the East German Foreign Ministry and a pledge from Ulbricht that the East German government would adhere to obligations of the U.N. Charter.

A U. S. spokesman promptly restated the long-standing position taken by the United States, Britain and France — the three Western occupation powers for Germany — that the West German government "is the only German government freely and legitimately constituted and therefore entitled to speak for the German people in international affairs."

The three Western allies contend that East Germany is not a sovereign state but an occupation zone. As such it is ineligible for U.N. membership.

For admission to the United Nations, East Germany would have to win:

—Recommendation of the 15-nation council, which requires nine affirmative votes with none of the five permanent members casting a veto.

—Ratification by two-thirds of the 117-nation General Assembly.

Diplomats said the East Germans could be sure of only two affirmative votes in the council, the Soviet Union and Communist Bulgaria.

In the memorandum accompanying its application, East Germany reportedly suggested that West Germany also be admitted to the United Nations as a move toward "confederation" between the two. However, West Germany was not expected to apply for membership because this might prejudice its case for German reunification.

THREE RIVERS (AP) — Mayor Ralph B. Vandenberg is enlisting support of Michigan mayors and similar officials on petitions seeking a constitutional amendment to restore voluntary prayer in public schools.

At a meeting Monday he told a retired persons' organization that when enough petitions are returned "to load up a truck or a train, we'll take them to Washington."

Vandenberg is active in an organization known as Restore Voluntary School Prayer, an offshoot of a petition drive last fall by Mrs. Howard Graves and Mrs. William Westrate Jr., of Holland.

The Holland women presented to Michigan congressmen in Washington petitions with 27,112 signatures in support of an amendment on prayer. They presented another 19,400 names to Rep. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., last December.

Mrs. Graves says Sen. Everett Dirksen, R-Ill., has promised to support the drive.

Vandenberg wrote to fellow mayors, telling of the movement which hoped to offset a U.S. Supreme Court ruling against Bible reading and prayers during class hours in public schools. It hopes to gain participants from throughout the nation.

State Social Services Say

Computerized Welfare Is Next

By JEAN WORTH
MARQUETTE—The shape of things to come—and quite soon—in Michigan's organization of state resources for its people's welfare was sketched at the Governor's Conference on Strengthening the Family here at Northern Michigan University recently.

Bernard Houston, director of the State Department of Social Services, said that a new era of welfare work is developing in Michigan, and while it will face difficult new challenges in helping people in an industrial society, it promises to be more effective in solving familiar problems.

The way that the new Department of Social Services is moving is indicated by its request to the U. S. Department of Health Education & Welfare for a grant of $75,000 for a study of computerized social services.

"People get into a situation where each agency that tries to help them gather information on them and then there is no way to share this information between the agencies and it never gets translated into anything comprehensive and showing the whole nature of the problem. Computerized analysis could do this. (Synthesizing welfare, employment, training, health, etc., data.)

"Since 1939 our department (the old State Welfare Department before the 1965 reorganization of state government) has grown tremendously. We have turned on a lot of faucets and turned off a few. To provide management with information we have contracted with two Ann Arbor firms, Systems Management Corp. and Technical Planning Center, for a systems study and a vast updating of our data processing.

"They have showed us how to translate information into action programs and we went to Washington and sold them on this first such effort in the United States.

Temby Presents Vivid, Colorful Tour Of West

J. Lincoln Temby of Escanaba, who combines hobbies of photography and travel to bring to audiences a colorful and entertaining program, was the Rotary Club's program at the House of Ludington Tuesday noon.

Mr. and Mrs. Temby journeyed with a trailer caravan through the West last summer. The area covered by Temby in his talk to the Rotary Club was the Grand Teton National Park and vicinity.

The color slide photographs and narration by Temby were accompanied with background music in an effectively pleasant program. The Tembys are planning a retirement in travel and will leave Escanaba early this summer after Mrs. Temby completes a career in teaching.

Temby was introduced by Dr. N. J. Theisen, club program chairman, and the Rotary meeting was conducted by Isadore Stein, club vice president.

PRINCIPALS in the Governor's Conference on Strengthening the Family at Northern Michigan University Saturday were, from left, Bernard Houston, director State Department of Social Services; Dr. Claud Bosworth, vice president-public services, NMU, and Harold McKinney, executive secretary of the Michigan Human Resources Council. (Daily Press Photo)

"Our Department is going to administer Title 19 of the Medicare program in Michigan starting in July. The whole state medical program for persons of all ages will be brought into one package. The program will be gradually phased in and it still needs enabling legislation by the Michigan Legislature and approval by the Department of Health, Education & Welfare.

"We will recommend that Kerr-Mills (the current Medical Aid to the Aged joint state-federal program in which Michigan and 20-odd other states are participating) be phased out. Kerr-Mills provides hospitalizations and some outpatient care. It is the basic M-75 Blue Cross coverage.

"The basic difference between Kerr-Mills and Title 19 of Medicare is that Title 19 has no income clause that defeats eligibility. Under Kerr-Mills a single person could have not more than $1,900 income and be eligible, or a couple $2,700 a year.

"We will pick up welfare needs under Title 18 of Medicare. There's a deduction of the first $50 of care under Medicare and we will pay this for the medically indigent.

"Coming under Medicare will cost Michigan $5 to $19 million a year in new tax money and my guess is that the figures will be about midway between those two estimates. The cost will be state-federal, 50-50 matching. Total cost of the program will be $60 to $100 million in the state."

In Service NMU Students To Teach Here

Hospital Corpsman First Class Albert P. Kinnon, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kinnon, 1112 1st Ave., N., Escanaba, participated in Operation "Double Eagle," the largest amphibious landing ever made in Vietnam. The assault landing of U. S. Marines near Thach Tru, 30 miles south of Chu Lai, involved eight waves of assault troops. Warships patrolled offshore to provide naval gunfire support. The Marines were virtually unopposed, and received only light small arms fire.

Boilerman Fireman Robert H. Viau, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Viau, 2000 16th Ave. N., Escanaba, participated in the Project Apollo AS-201 mission as a crewmember aboard the radar picket destroyer USS Turner. The Turner occupied a downrange recovery station during the sub-orbital ballistic shot which initiated the program slated to put men on the moon by 1970.

Three Northern Michigan University seniors will become the first student teachers ever to work in the Escanaba Area

Housing?

The Area School system is attempting to locate housing for three Northern Michigan University seniors who will be doing practice teaching in Escanaba from April 4 to June 3. Anyone with rooms or apartments available for the two-month period is asked to call the School Administration building at ST 6-5411.

public school system next month.

Arnold Liimakka of Ironwood will work with George Frantz in the high school biology department. Lorna Makuck of Crystal Falls will join Melba Braemer in the third grade at Lemmer School and Mary Wheeler of Calumet has been assigned to Norma White and the Lemmer second grade.

Supt. of Schools Luther M. Barrett said the students will start April 4 and continue through to the end of the school year. They will participate in all faculty functions as regular teachers, he said.

"The student teachers will first be observers in the classroom and help with planning lessons, grading papers, etc.," said Barrett. "By the end of the eight-week period they will be worked in to take over the class, if not on a full-time basis to handle certain subjects."

Regular teaching staff members will act as supervising teachers for the students and evaluate their progress and make comments for Northern Michigan University.

Barrett said 18 teachers in the area system are taking a credit course from Northern to qualify as supervising teachers for next year, when the Escanaba Area schools will be listed at Northern as accepting students for practice teaching work. He said he anticipated more student teachers in the program next year.

Foe For Romney

When Zolton Ferency, the state Democratic chairman, announced that he was resigning that office effective Aug. 3—or sooner if the party leaders desire—some persons saw it as a prelude to announcement of his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for governor.

Such a candidacy had been talked about ever since Neil Staebler failed to make it against Governor Romney in the November, 1964 election. But Ferency made clear in announcing that he would bow out the day after the Aug. 2 primary election that he regards his own chances for the Democratic nomination as very sick. This squares with the general impression.

Ferency became chairman of the Michigan Democratic Committee with the aid of then-Gov. John B. Swainson in a coup that ousted Joe Collins, the protégé of Neil Staebler, himself a long time holder of the office, and Democratic state officials. That tussle divided the Democratic camp in Michigan and it was further riven when Ferency talked critically in public about Democrats who failed to follow the Democratic platform in public office.

This position made Ferency about as popular as a skunk in church with many of Michigan's legislators, whom he said were reneging on the Michigan Democratic Party's pledge of fiscal (tax) reform in state government. Remembering the payless paydays of Michigan state employees when Soapy Williams was governor, the State Democratic Party had plumped for reform to make Michigan taxes more equitable and more adequate.

The platform makers and Ferency may be judged by history to have been right, but Michigan state legislators judged them politically inept. With more than $100 million in a state treasury surplus, why should the voters of Michigan OK a state income tax on top of their present tax burden? The voters wouldn't do it, as a practical matter, and the authors of the bite would have to face the music in the next election.

Ferency has never lacked courage and he used it in this duel with the Democratic legislators. He used it also in suggesting that Governor Romney could be beaten "with the right kind of a campaign" and that he was available to prove it. Good Democrats all hope that he's right and that George Romney can be beaten, but they didn't rush forward to back him as the man to do it and Ferency's own inquiries recently about his potential strength as a candidate have convinced him that he's not the best choice that the Democrats could make. Throughout he's said that he'd step aside for any of the big name candidates and his own petition campaign ran into snags in some places.

"The messages were not all bad," Ferency said, but some were not so good."

Who are the "big names" in the Democratic speculation? They are Mayor Jerome Cavanagh of Detroit, United Auto Workers Vice President Leonard Woodcock and Congressman John C. Mackie, who's best known to all Michigan as the state's last elected highway commissioner.

Cavanagh has indicated more interest in succeeding retiring U.S. Senator Pat McNamara than in running against Romney, but there is a Democratic party struggle underway to pick its strongest man, with indications that former Gov. G. Mennen Williams has an edge. This contest is regarded as so important, in terms of an assured Democratic successor to McNamara in the Senate, and of tarnishing Romney's luster as a Republican presidential hopeful, that it is expected to get direction from the White House.

The delay in the announcements of Williams and Cavanagh indicate the windup for the political maypole.

Wild Blue Snafu

"The Air Force, in its magnificent accomplishments in the wild blue yonder, has tended to ignore the foot soldiers in the dirty brown under."

This is the punchline of a report released by Rep. Otis G. Pike (D-N.Y.) who headed a House Armed Services subcommittee hearing last fall into charges that air support of ground troops in Viet Nam left something to be desired.

The subcommittee zeros in on the Air Force for failing to develop the necessary aircraft and tactics and the Defense Department for "overstudying" and "underdeciding."

"Perhaps the most appalling fact," says the subcommittee, "was that until very recently the Air Force... could not talk to the Army on the ground because the Air Force radios were not compatible with the Army radios."

The congressmen found this incredible in view of the fact that close air support has been a tactical doctrine since before World War II.

They also found that the Air Force has not designed any ground-support aircraft since World War II and has been forced to borrow Navy attack planes and Army observation planes in Viet Nam.

Apparently the Air Force has taken too much to heart the warnings of respected military men that this nation should not become involved in a land war anywhere. It is not prepared for a land war anywhere.

Where are the billions of yesteryear?

Big GI Aids

The new "Cold War GI Bill," passed unanimously by both houses of Congress, involves the outlay of a healthy chunk of money—some $2.8 billion over the next six years before it tapers off.

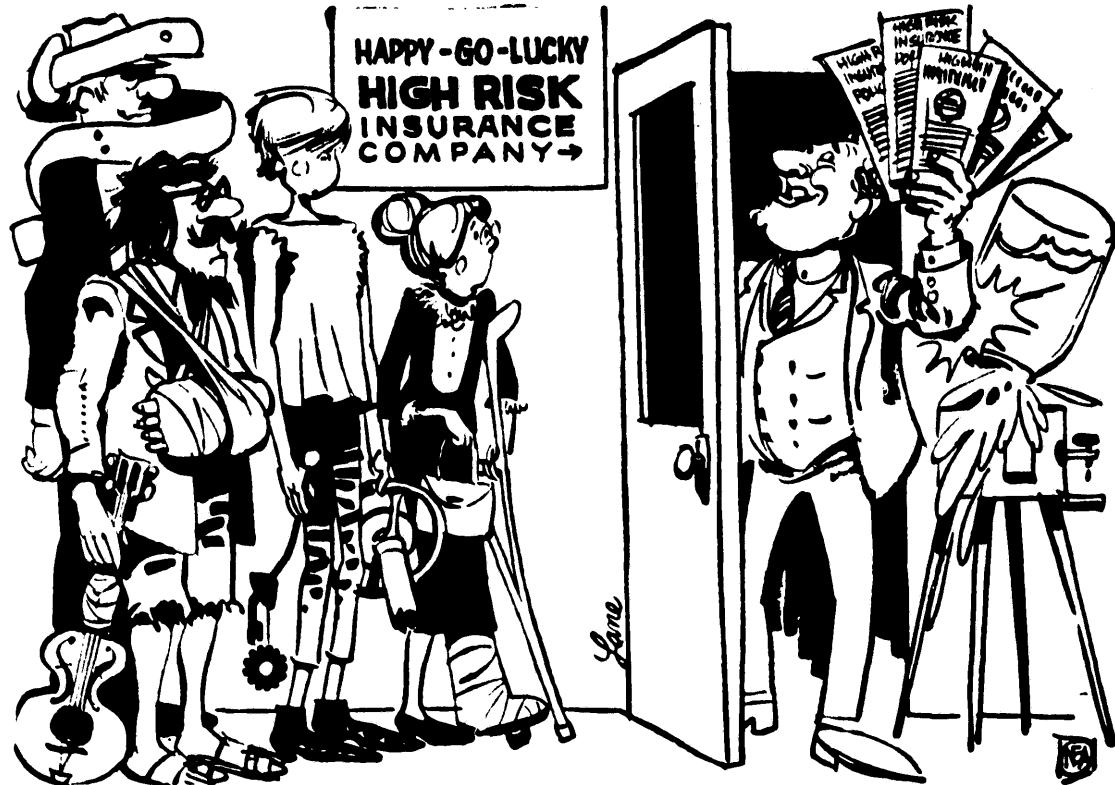

This is about twice as much as the administration asked for in its original request. But it is one of those things that cannot be categorized as inflationary or noninflationary, that eludes analysis in columns of profit and loss.

The fact is that a substantial share of the billions the program will cost will come from the incomes of citizens in the prime of their working lives who themselves received benefits—college educations, vocational training, home loans, etc.—under previous GI bills.

There were 8.4 million who participated in the first bill after World War II. Another 2.5 million were beneficiaries of the Korean GI Bill.

How much more they have earned, how much more they have contributed to the nation than they otherwise might have, is impossible to say. The monetary returns on these investments might perhaps be estimated; in any other terms it is incalculable.

While the heavy hand the veterans' lobbies exercise over Congress is open to question in some matters, the new GI bill is one fruit of their labors everyone can applaud. Theoretically, it could be of immediate benefit to some 3.5 million veterans who were discharged from the services after Jan. 31, 1955, when the Korean bill expired.

Insurance Rated Part Of

Auto Accident Problem

By TOM NOLAN

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Many administration and legislative officials now are beginning to view insurance as an important part of the auto accident problem, one of the nation's major social ills.

Some 49,000 Americans were killed in traffic accidents last year — a figure roughly 24 times greater than all U.S. fatalities in Viet Nam. Another four million Americans were injured.

Economic loss from traffic accidents in 1965 is estimated at $11.2 billion — twice the amount the United States will spend next fiscal year on its space program.

Not only is Congress interested in auto insurance, but numerous private studies have been launched outlining new approaches to meeting claims of persons injured in accidents.

Though the Supreme Court ruled in 1944 that the insurance industry was subject to federal regulation, Congress the following year returned this jurisdiction to the states in the McCarran Act.

But facts revealed by the Anti-Trust and Monopoly Subcommittee, which has held hearings on the problem since 1958, show that in many areas state regulation of the insurance industry is virtually non-existent.

The latest of these hearings held by a special group under Sen. Thomas Dodd, D-Conn., concentrate on high-risk auto insurance. Dodd contends that individual states are not effectively coping with the complex financial problems created by an inter-state business.

Here are some of the facts unearthed by the subcommittee:

• There have been 58 failures in the high-risk industry since 1960. Just 33 of these failures left unpaid claims of almost $285 million.

• One man — now under grand jury indictment — was president of four high-risk firms which folded within two years of each other in Michigan, Wisconsin, Missouri and Florida.

• A Chicago attorney took control of a failing company with a $100,000 bank loan. He promptly paid himself $300,000 in "management fees," used a third of this amount to repay the bank loan.

• A portfolio of securities listed on the books of an Illinois company as assets turned up on the books of five other companies in different states, also listed as assets.

In the last two years, 31 of 350 high-risk firms have gone into receivership.

Dodd argues that insurance firms — as custodians of funds entrusted to them by the public — should fail at a lower rate than the national average. Yet the rate for high-risk firms is better than seven times higher than the 1.2 per cent average for businesses as a whole over the last two years.

Many of the high-risk firms have complicated financial links with similar firms in other states. The collapse of The American Allied Insurance Co. in Minnesota last summer triggered the failure of six other high-risk firms.

A dozen or so of the 58 high-risk failures were selling policies in more than 30 states. One of them operated in all 50 states.

Dodd's group was specifically attempting to find out if the states were effectively regulating for solvency and whether responsible motorists could obtain adequate coverage at reasonable rates.

Both "regulation" and "reasonable rates" have been long-time bugaboos of the entire auto insurance industry, which has constantly maintained that its rates are inadequate. At least a dozen states approved rate increases last year.

Four states—Vermont, Kentucky, South Dakota and Maryland—rejected increase proposals. The Maryland insurance commissioner based his rejection on grounds the industry failed to include part of its investment income among profits and, in general, overstated its losses.

The industry also has maintained that state regulation, guaranteed by the McCarran Act, is adequate. But the act granted only a conditional delegation of authority to the states which could be reconsidered if the states showed an inability to serve the public interest.

Though Dodd's group concentrated on the high-risk segment, the troubles there appear to be of an overall problem facing the insurance industry, its regulators and the general public.

Far From A Success

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Parallels with the coalition government in Laos are inevitably evoked by New York Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's proposal that the Communist-controlled National Liberation Front be given a share of power in any postwar government in South Viet Nam.

Though Vice President Humphrey and other top administration spokesmen have sharply criticized the proposal, it has gained Kennedy new plaudits from members of the Democratic left who stoutly oppose President Johnson's Viet Nam policies.

Some of the administration's critics think the Laotian example offers solid evidence of the workability of Kennedy's suggested approach.

That evidence deserves fresh examination. But first it may be instructive to recall why Kennedy's late brother, President John F. Kennedy, sought a neutral coalition in Laos—and what means he used to get it.

The overriding point in 1961 was that the Red Pathet Lao and North Vietnamese regulars were overrunning Laos and threatening to push the last miles to Vientiane and the Mekong River border with Thailand.

The late President believed the only way to prevent a total Red victory by physical means was to introduce sizable U.S. armed forces. The Laotian government forces had neither the strength nor the will to resist effectively. Their real battles with the enemy were rare.

John Kennedy was told Laos was nearly hopeless as a site for a modern western-style army. It has no seaports, no rail roads, only two fair weather airports and two fair weather highways. Communications are incredibly bad.

Consequently, among his choices, the late President picked negotiations looking toward a coalition which, inevitably, would admit to some power the Communist Pathet Lao.

It is notable, however, that to get the Reds to cease firing before coming to the table, Kennedy had to convey firmly to both Moscow and Peking that we would, despite all handicaps, put troops into Laos if our preconditions were not met.

They were at last met in mid-1961 and lengthy talks began. When the Pathet Lao broke the cease-fire with a major assault in May, 1962, President Kennedy dispatched 5,000 Marines and soldiers to the Thailand border to indicate our intent to block total conquest. Australian, New Zealand and British units joined us.

Thereafter negotiations improved mightily and an accord finally was signed at Geneva. The resulting coalition government was three-sided, with neutralist leader Souvanna Phouma predominating over the Pathet Lao and the rightist government elements.

It has "worked" only in the sense that it prevented a possible great power confrontation on the difficult terrain of Laos.

For more than two years, the Red Pathet Lao have taken no part in the coalition. They withdrew as soon as they realized they could not subvert it and seize full political power.

The remaining coalition forces have no control over the more than two-thirds of Laos occupied by Pathet Lao and North Vietnamese soldiers. In practical effect, the country is partitioned.

Not only did the North Vietnamese units never leave the country as the Geneva pact demanded, but their forces have steadily increased until—according to a late dispatch—all fighting is now done either by exclusively North Vietnamese units or by Pathet Lao led by Hanoi's officer cadres.

The Pathet Lao, indeed, are reported to be low in morale, deserting in sizable numbers, held together only by Hanoi's ramrod resolve.

The still persistent disturber of Laotian peace, then, is the minor imperialist, Ho Chi Minh the enforcer of de facto partition. And what holds him in check, on-scene observers agree is not a workable coalition government but the constant menace that further moves toward the Mekong will bring in U.S. troops against him.

The Doctor Says:

Hearing Block Eased

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt

The commonest cause of hearing loss in young and middle-aged adults is otosclerosis, a stiffening of the connection between the stapes and the other small bones in the inner ear. Hearing loss occurs when this stiffness reduces the ability of the stapes to vibrate normally.

Hearing depends on the transmission of vibrations to the auditory nerve. This hereditary disease usually starts between the ages of 18 and 40. It is more common in women than in men and is slowly progressive.

The victim hears better in noisy surroundings because the background noise sets up coarse vibrations and also forces people to talk louder than they otherwise would. Because in otosclerosis sounds are heard more plainly by bone conduction than by air conduction, the victim has less difficulty hearing over a telephone than when talking to a person in the same room.

Since the person with otosclerosis hears his own voice via bone conduction, he thinks he is speaking louder than he is and is likely to drop his voice to a low pitch.

The sound of his own chewing, also transmitted by bone conduction, can be very distracting to him and makes it hard for him to hear what others are saying while he is eating. The victim may also be troubled by ringing in the ears.

Although there are other causes of hearing loss, the person who can hear a tuning fork better when the base is held against the back of his head than when the blades are held near his ear probably has otosclerosis, especially if there is no past history of ear infections and the doctor finds a normal eardrum.

Nearly all persons with otosclerosis can be helped by surgery. In the operation now preferred by most surgeons, the stapes is removed and replaced with a stainless steel wire or a small piece of polyethylene, a nonirritating plastic that is well tolerated by the adjacent tissues.

Although the results are usually better if the operation is performed early in the course of the disease, age is no barrier to this procedure. The patient can usually go home on the day following the operation, but how lasting the improvement in hearing will be cannot be judged until about three months later.

PRAISE

I suppose that nearly everything has been said that can be about the recent school election, but I would just like to add my comment concerning it.

You will recall that when I left I made the statement that I felt the area had as much potential as any and needed only to solidify a desire. It is heartening indeed to see such a switch in the support of the needs of the school district. This is a fine forward step in providing elementary children the facilities they need as they prepare for the challenges that are ahead.

Keep up the good work and my congratulations and best wishes to a truly fine community and people.

Walter Bright, principal of Grand Haven, Mich., Senior High School, is a former superintendent of the Escanaba Area School District.)

Dear Ann Landers: Some women get right back to their normal weight after the child comes, but unfortunately my wife put on 10 pounds with each child — and that's where Brenda is right now—twenty pounds overweight.

For the past several months I have hinted that Brenda do something about the excess weight. No results. Last week I came right out and told her to buy a good girdle.

This evening we were dressing to go out and Brenda put on a dress she hasn't been able to wear in a long time. She said, "This girdle is great — look." Then she handed ME a girdle and said, "This is for you, Fatso."

I thought she was kidding until she added, "You have gained more weight than I have. If I'm going to sacrifice comfort for looks, so can you."

I refused to wear the girdle and she's been mad ever since. Who's wrong? — FIGHTING MAD

Dear Mad: Never mind who's right and who's wrong. You're both too fat and girdles are not the answer.

Ask your doctor about a diet and suitable exercise. You'll both feel better, look better and live longer.

Dear Ann Landers: You are smart and I am stupid. Please give me some answers. My parents were strict and they brooked no nonsense. My sister and I felt a quick hand if we said anything out of line. We loved mother and dad but we were afraid of them. I made up my mind that my children would never be afraid of me.

My daughter is 13 and my son is 11. I got my wish. My children are NOT afraid of me. They also have no respect for me. When I tell them to turn off the TV and do their homework they ignore me.

Ten minutes ago I told my daughter to clean up her room or she couldn't go to the movies. She just left for the movies and her room is a mess.

Must parents breed fear in their children to make them obey? What's the answer, Ann Landers? — FLOP OF A MOTHER

Dear Mother: I earnestly believe that a little fear is a healthy thing. Parents who try to win a popularity contest wind up with irresponsible, disrespectful kids who are a problem to themselves and to everyone else.

P&H 1st Quarter Breaks Records

MILWAUKEE—Record first quarter net shipments and income, a 40 cents per share common stock dividend, and a proposed offering of 200,000 additional shares of common stock were announced here today following a regular meeting of the board of directors of Har-nischfeger Corp.

Board Chairman Walter Har-nischfeger stated: "Net shipments of $35,981,630 for the three months ended Jan. 31, represented a new record for the first quarter and were 62.2 per cent above the $22,187,434 shipped in the same period of 1965.

"Net income of $1,443,781 also set a new high for the period and compared with $404,072 recorded in the first quarter a year ago. Earnings per common share were $1.51 after provision for preferred dividends, based on the 888,143 shares outstanding on January 31, 1966. A year ago, earnings were 38 cents per share after provision for preferred dividends, based on 783,644 shares then outstanding.

"On Jan. 17 the company called for redemption on Feb. 17 of all of its outstanding 6 per cent series, convertible preferred stock. By Jan. 31, 1966, 104,599 shares of common stock had been issued on conversion of preferred shares and are included in the 888,143 shares outstanding noted above. Since then, all the remaining preferred shares have been converted. There are now 1,020,341 shares of common stock outstanding, and based on this number, the first quarter earnings reported above would be equivalent to $1.41 per share.

"The demand for all of the corporation's products continues strong, with the unfilled order backlog in excess of $63,000,000 at the end of the quarter. To expand its manufacturing capability to allow continued growth the corporation has concluded an agreement to acquire a precision machine company and plans further expansion through the capital financing mentioned below.

"On Feb. 28, 1966, the board of directors voted a quarterly dividend of 40 cents per common share, payable April 1 to stockholders of record March 15, 1966, thereby continuing the dividend rate established last August.

"At the same meeting, the directors authorized the registration under the Securities Act of 1933 of 200,000 shares of its common stock. Subject to the registration statement becoming effective, the shares are proposed to be offered to the public through underwriters headed by the First Boston Corp. during the latter part of March. The purpose of the financing is to provide funds for the expansion of the company's production facilities."

Propose Copper Plant For Sault

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—Plans for a proposed $12 million copper refining and fabricating plant in Sault Ste. Marie were announced Tuesday.

Richard Burnett, president of Sault Edison Co., and T. S. Caffey, president of the Chippewa County Industrial Development Corp., said the plant is proposed by Great Lakes Copper Corp., of Bay City, and government financing will be sought through the Office of Economic Development.

Burnett and Caffey said the proposed plant would be located on now vacant property once occupied by a Union Carbide Co. plant and would employ 175 initially. They said Barlow had acquired an option to purchase the property. Newsmen were unable immediately to contact Sterling Barlow, Great Lakes Copper president. Mill buildings would provide 200,000 square feet of floor space, and plans call for production to begin in 1967. Burnett and Caffey quoted Barlow as saying his firm holds options on 21,000 acres in Ontonagon County and planned mineral exploration there.

Car Building Hits 2 Million

DETROIT (AP)—The U. S. auto industry is slated to build its two millionth vehicle of calendar 1966 today, the same date on which it reached that record last year.

That accomplishment was especially welcome in automotive circles for it meant that 1966 production, which had lagged behind the early 1965 pace for a variety of reasons, had finally caught up.

Production schedules for March called for an estimated 920,000 units which would make it the second highest month in automotive history. The high was the 963,100 cars built last March when the industry was straining to meet customer demand for cars in the wake of the late 1964 auto strikes.

American Motors production lines remained closed this week as it sought to bring field stocks into line with customer demand. The rest of the industry was hard at work, however.

Chrysler Corp. stepped up activities last week as it went to nine hour shifts at several plants.

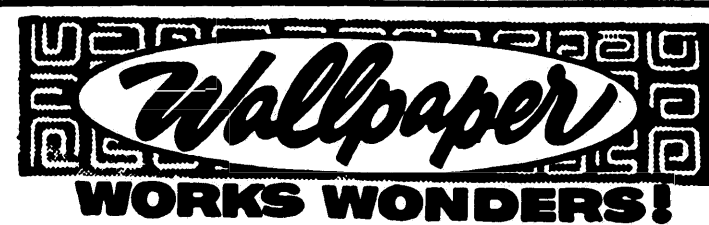

Ford and General Motors each had three plants on overtime operations last Saturday.

Car makers were expected to wind up the Jan.-Feb.-March quarter with an output of about 2.5 million autos, some 60,000 short of the record first quarter high set last year.

Auto output up to last week-end totaled about 1,546,073 cars compared with 1,637,541 in the same quarter last year. However, truck output this year was running far ahead of last year's pace.

Wolverine Shoe Has Best Year

ROCKFORD (AP)—Wolverine Shoe & Tanning Corp. Tuesday reported record profits and sales for 1965. It was the eighth straight growth year reported since the company introduced its Hush Puppies brand of shoes nationally. Wolverine reported net profits of $4.7 million, a gain of 15.6 per cent over the $4.1 million, reported for 1964 and equal to $1.59 per share. The 1964 per share was $1.37, adjusted for a two-for-one split March 1, 1965. Sales and other operating income totaled $55.3 million in 1965, compared with the previous year's $49.0 million.

City Income Tax Gets Nod

LANSING (AP)—The House tentatively passed a bill Tuesday that would require city voters to decide beforehand whether they wanted an income tax.

The measure passed 56-40, but Rep. Charles Conrad, D-Jackson, said he will move to reconsider the vote today.

The Uniform City Income Tax ordinance now allows a city government to order an income tax of up to one per cent. Voters opposed to the tax have time to gather petitions to call for a referendum on the tax. If the tax proposal fails, it does not become law.

The tentatively approved measure, sponsored by Rep. George Sietema, D-Grand Rapids, would reverse the process and allow an income tax only after residents approved it at the polls.

The ordinance also allows a tax of one-half of one per cent for non-residents who work within the city.

Detroit, Flint, Saginaw and Hamtramck are the only Michigan cities now levying an income tax. They would not be retroactively affected by the bill, which will need senatorial approval if it survives a second House vote.

Kept Children From School, Pair In Court

DETROIT (AP)—A Hazel Park couple which kept its two children out of school for 72 days instead of sending them to a school for low achievers was to appear in Hazel Park Municipal Court today on charges of failure to send the children to school.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Marshall face imprisonment for 90 days and a $50 fine if convicted.

Their children, William, 8, and Mary Ann, 12, have been sent to live with their grandmother in Kentucky and are enrolled in a public school there.

Mrs. Marshall said she started keeping the children home last Nov. 10 after they were assigned to a slow learners' class on the basis of psychological tests.

The couple said they spent some $600 on private tests and said the results indicated the children should not be placed in the slower classes.

Road Death Toll Ahead Of 1965

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan's highway death toll has reached 270 compared to 263 at this point a year ago, going ahead of 1965 for the first time this year.

Orin Lucas, State Police traffic expert, blamed the jump on a high toll during the month of February.

"It was a relatively open month weather-wise," Lucas said. "Also, more motorists are driving more cars more miles than ever before so there is more exposure to accidents."

Demo Office Is Tax Delinquent

LANSING (AP)—The Democratic State Central Committee, which often has something to say about taxes, had plenty to say Tuesday when it found itself on the list of tax delinquent offices in Lansing.

The committee owed $39.40 in taxes on its office furniture, due Feb. 14, said Gerald Graves, city treasurer.

"We were told the assessor was coming to visit, and we withheld payment for that reason," said Zolton A. Ferency, Democratic state chairman.

A misunderstanding, said Gerald Ernst, city assessor. The assessment was intended for the 1966 tax year and had no relation to the 1965 office tax bill, he said.

Because of the misunderstanding, Ferency said, Lansing Mayor Max Murnighan assured him the Democrats would not be charged the penalty payment of $1.58.

Hear Hershey Before Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. L. Mendel Rivers said today the House Armed Services Committee heads will hear Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, then decide whether to investigate the military draft.

The South Carolina Democrat's statement came after 30 Republican House members called for an immediate probe. Hershey is Selective Service director.

The Republicans Tuesday charged the present draft system is haphazard and mired in a "red-tape jungle."

Rivers' committee would make any such investigation.

A date to hear Hershey has not yet been set.

Hershey said no Tuesday when asked at a luncheon of young lawyers whether the draft system should be reorganized.

"You would not do that to a system that is working," he added.

Chicago Firm To Buy Detroit Port Facility

DETROIT (AP)—Approval for a Chicago-based nonprofit corporation to operate Detroit's largest port facility was granted Tuesday by the city council.

Under terms of the agreement, Jefferson Seaway Corp., headed by Chicago food distributor Frank Scoby, would purchase the port for $8 million and operate it for 30 years before returning it to public ownership.

Formation of the corporation was approved in principle, but Scoby must return for approval of a bond issue to finance purchase and improvements to the five-berth facility.

City funds and credit are not involved but Detroit will have an option to purchase the bonds if Scoby's company defaults.

The 25-acre port handled nearly 335,000 tons of cargo in the first 11 months of 1965.

Police Capture Extortion Plot Suspect In Alley

DETROIT (AP)—A synagogue sexton was threatened with a fate "just like Rabbi Adler" Tuesday and police trapped and seized a young man as a suspected extortionist.

Working with the sexton's help, officers picked up the suspect, a former synagogue janitor, in an alley where he had instructed that $1,000 be left for him.

Joseph Mermelstein, 42, sexton of Beth Abraham synagogue, reported a bizarre plot to police. Attached to the door of his home Mermelstein found a crudely penciled note directing that he turned over $1,000 in $10 bills at the rear of a home in the neighborhood.

The note said Mermelstein's home would be bombed and he would be shot at his synagogue if he failed to comply.

"If you love your family, you will do as we request," the note said.

Mermelstein is married and has four children.

Rabbi Morris Adler, 59, shot and critically wounded at his Congregation Shaarey Zedek in suburban Southfield Feb. 12 is still in a coma at a hospital.

A disturbed young member of Adler's congregation shot the rabbi and then turned his gun on himself, inflicting fatal injuries.

Henry Todd, 19, was arrested in the alleged plot against Mermelstein and charged with extortion.

Police Detective Sgt. Leonard Clippert said today denying the plot after first denying it. Clippert said the young man declared he was out of work and needed money. He had been a janitor at Mergelstein's synagogue for two months.

State Lab For U.P. In Esky Being Opposed

Menominee County is fighting the proposed moving of the Michigan Department of Public Health branch laboratory from Powers to Escanaba.

The Menominee County Board has gone on record as opposing the proposal. The laboratory is currently located at the Pinecrest Medicare Facility at Powers.

The county board adopted a resolution and sent copies of the resolution to State Senator Joseph Mack of Ironwood and Representative James Constantini of Iron Mountain urging them to strike this item from the state budget and to reverse a decision to move the laboratory.

In the resolution, the county board stated that the state laboratory is provided free space at Pinecrest with no obligations to the taxpayers of Michigan and that the laboratory provides vital and essential services to 160 patients at Pinecrest. The board noted that the state laboratory is centrally located between three major Upper Peninsula communities of Menominee, Escanaba and Iron Mountain and all three cities are serviced by airports and regular mail pickup at the Powers postoffice.

The resolution indicated that a new building will have to be constructed if the lab is moved to Escanaba.

"The Menominee County Board of Supervisors vigorously opposes the proposal to move the state laboratory and condemn said proposal as unnecessary, wasteful and as a serious harm to the present operation of Pinecrest Medicare Facility and a senseless expenditure of public funds," the board's resolution stated in part.

The Menominee County Board of Supervisors' opposition to the move of the State Health Department laboratory at Powers to the proposed new laboratory facility in the State Office Building in Escanaba does not note that the change would not be a simple move of a unit from Powers to Escanaba, but a consolidation of the Health Department's labs at Powers and at Michigan Tech at Houghton and the Michigan Department of Agriculture's laboratory in Escanaba into one laboratory.

The Powers and Houghton labs do bacterial tests on water for communities which lack laboratory facilities and milk tests and bacterial tests for the Health Department like the blood examinations in pre-marital tests. The Powers lab has 9 employees, the Houghton lab 6. The Powers lab employees live in that community except for three, one in Hermansville, one in Vulcan and one in Escanaba, Jay Jennings, director.

The Department of Agriculture, says Dr. Leonard Vader, in charge of its Escanaba laboratory, is planning a considerable expansion of activities with its new facilities in the State Office Building, in an addition now being planned for the state by G. Arntzen Architect & Co. of Escanaba.

There has never been any facility in the U. P. for the testing of dairy products for the Department of Agriculture and Dr. Vader said that the taking of ice cream and other products to Lansing for tests is unsatisfactory.

All of the state laboratories in the Upper Peninsula are in need of modernization and new equipment, legislators have been told, and the consolidation would effect improvement as well as consolidation. The consolidation is in line with a Lansing accent which has merged more than 100 state departments and agencies into 19 major departments of state government.

But a third, who voted for the bill along with Democrats and the other two Republicans Tuesday, says he would support a veto.

The House-approved veterans bill passed the Senate 25-12 with votes from Republicans Charles Zoller, Benton Harbor; Gilbert Bursley, Ann Arbor; and S. Don Potter, Lansing.

Gov. George Romney has promised a veto, which Democrats could override only with a Republican vote in the House and three in the Senate.

When Romney voted a nearly identical bill last year, Democrats could muster no GOP votes.

But Zoller said Tuesday he expects to vote to override because "I was committed to this long before all the pushing and tugging started."

The bill, estimated to cost between $4.5 million and $5.5 million, would increase property tax exemptions for disabled veterans and veterans' widows from $2,000 state-equalized value to $3,500.

Romney is backing a sliding scale plan where benefits are keyed to amount of disability and widows get a $2,500 exemption. It would cost an estimated $2.5 million.

Zoller said he was committed to try to regain benefits for veterans in his southwestern Michigan area who lost up to two-thirds of their exemptions from a 1963 change in the law.

Zoller said he asked veterans' leaders in his area to consider Romney's plan, "but they all said they insist on the $3,500 version."

Senate Republicans announced six weeks ago they would back any Romney veterans' veto, but Bursley said Tuesday, "I have no commitment now...I reserve judgment."

Potter, however, said he would support a veto "as a matter of party discipline."

Work-Release Prisoner Who Fled, Indicted

DETROIT (AP)—A federal grand jury Tuesday returned an indictment—believed Michigan's first of its kind—against a federal prisoner charged with violating terms of the government's new "work release" program.

Dominick J. Nicolsia, 52, of Detroit, was charged with escaping while free from the Federal Correctional Institution at Milan for daytime work.

U.S. Attorney Lawrence Gubow said Nicolsia disappeared from a car-repair job in Ann Arbor Feb. 8 and turned himself in to Detroit police two days later.

The work release program, approved by Congress last September, permits the daytime release of chosen prisoners for civilian employment. The program is designed to help prisoners' reentry to civilian life.

Nicolsia, due for release May 15, is serving a three-year sentence for interstate transportation of a stolen motorcycle.

The new candidate for governor was Eunice I. Gore, a 46-year-old Leeds resident, who described herself as a "God-fearing man" doing the will of God in running for the office.

Five minutes before the deadline, Ralph (Shorty) Price announced that his wife, Dolores, was withdrawing as a candidate for governor. He said she based her decision on the belief that "no woman can be elected."

He added: "So, I want my $500 back." He got it.

Delay 14 Road Building Jobs

LANSING (AP)—The State Highway Department temporarily has postponed bid-taking on 14 construction projects, costing an estimated $8 million, in seven counties.

Department Director Howard Hill said the postponements are only the first of many to be announced pending a complete revision of construction schedules.

The department has been advocating legislation to raise gas and weight taxes. Spokesmen contend unless boosts are authorized, Michigan will fall 175 million short of meeting anticipated road-building needs by 1972.

Projects have been delayed from 30 days to 13 months.

Alabama Negroes Seek Office In Record Numbers

JASPER, Ala. (AP)—Voters in a dozen Alabama counties will find a record number of Negro candidates on the ballot in the upcoming Democratic primary, and some of them stand at least an even chance of defeating their white opponents.

At the qualifying deadline at midnight Tuesday night 12 Negroes were seeking seats in the legislature and more than a score of others were running for county or party office in the May 3rd election.

Before the time limit expired for candidates to get their names on the ballot, a retired office worker plunged unexpectedly into the already crowded race for governor. One of the two women seeking the Democratic gubernatorial nomination withdrew, asking for her money back.

The new candidate for governor was Eunice I. Gore, a 46-year-old Leeds resident, who described herself as a "God-fearing man" doing the will of God in running for the office.

Five minutes before the deadline, Ralph (Shorty) Price announced that his wife, Dolores, was withdrawing as a candidate for governor. He said she based her decision on the belief that "no woman can be elected."

MANISTIQUE

RUSSELL BOOTH, 41, of Escanaba, Rte. 1, left, and James Tardiff work to remove an airplane from the Lake Michigan shore east of Manistique, where it made an emergency landing Monday night. The craft was bound for Schoolcraft Airport to refuel but was barred by fog. The landing gear and propeller were damaged in landing on the beach. After plane repairs Booth took off about 6 p.m., Tuesday for the Schoolcraft Airport, using lake ice for a runway.

Draw Decides Mayor Trade

LANSING (AP)—The luck of the draw decided pairings for the annual exchange of mayors and village presidents today — with the exception of eight communities which were pre-decided on their swaps.

Holland and Warren Jackson and Kalamazoo, Port Huron and Saginaw and Cadillac and Hudsonville had set up their swaps in advance.

Some 350 other communities depended on the drawing to decide the exchange visits, to take place May 16 as part of the annual Michigan Week.

Gov. George Romney, arriving late after the first 20 pairings had been decided, still was given the honor of making the first official matching retroactively. Romney matched Luna Park and Union City.

Other pairings in the first 20: Forestville — Laingsburg, Bangor-Ewart, Imlay City-Pennville, Roseville-Garden, Lathrup Village-Cass City, Cheboygan-Tallapoosa, Woodhaven-Houghton, Owosso — Marysville, Chesaning-Lawton, Howell-Oxford.

U.P. Featured At Travel Shows

This coming week and its start selling the Peninsula's scenic and historic attractions at the Coliseum in the State Fairgrounds, Detroit. The volunteer captain of the mid-western travel vacation markets of Detroit, Chicago and Milwaukee, according to Ken Dorman, secretary-manager of the Association.

A major effort involving 70 ft. of space, featuring a combined exhibit of the Association and a display by the Michigan Department of Conservation with uniformed officers in attendance will be in Chicago at McCormick Place.

The show (March 5-13), is expected to attract almost 500,000 people. Ted Hentschell, Manistee, is the volunteer captain of the show. He expects to have as many as 12 to 15 volunteers and Chamber of Commerce representatives from all parts of the Peninsula to help sell the vacations appeals of the Peninsula.

On almost exactly the same dates, but opening Friday night, March 4, the Association's second major display booth will will end Sunday, March 20. The travel show program is being carried on this year on the same basis as for the past five years. The Upper Michigan Tourist Association pays for all the space purchased and related expenses thereto, transportation, sets up and takes down all displays and oversees the move-in and move-out of its display materials.

Dorman estimated that the Association would have invested over $3,000 in space and related direct costs as well as supplying several thousand dollars worth of Association literature at just these three of the eight major shows it will participate in this year.

Beef Farming Meeting March 24

How much does it cost us to keep a beef cow in Alger County?

These and other questions on beef farming will be answered at a meeting for beef growers at the Upper Peninsula Experiment Station in Chatham, March 24. This meeting will be an evening meeting, at 7:30 p. m.

R. T. Hartwig, Michigan State University agricultural economist, will provide some of the answers.

Garbage Dump Change Coming

Escanaba may have to go to a sanitary land fill type of garbage disposal to satisfy state health laws — and if it does the adjacent townships may have to start providing their own disposal facility instead of using Escanaba's.

City Manager George Harvey has advised the City Council that "recent legislation has put certain restrictions on open garbage pits and it is apparent that the requirements and restrictions set up under this law will eventually mean the establishment of a sanitary land fill" for Escanaba.

The Health Department has informed the city manager that it is "not happy" with Escanaba's operation and that it is hopeful the city will establish a sanitary land fill within the city limits.

(The city's open garbage dump is located about two miles west of Escanaba on Old State Road. Sanitary land fill is a method by which refuse is dumped into a trench in the earth and is then covered periodically with earth fill.)

The Health Department directed the city's attention to the law that there should be no residence within two miles of an open dump. There is a "structure" about three-quarters mile west of the city dump.

City Manager Harvey advised the Council that he believes the State "will be reluctant to grant us a permit on this (present) operation," but that he feels it should be continued so long as possible.

"Presently the residents of Ford River Township, Wells Township and I believe Escanaba Township utilize our dumping grounds," the manager reported.

"If we ever go to a sanitary land fill I am fearful that the highways and the entire landscape around will be a mess, because the local citizens as well as the adjacent neighborhood will not have a central location in which to dump their refuse."

"To establish a sanitary land fill, excluding any land acquisition, would cost us $15,000 to purchase the necessary equipment and then we will have a continual cost of labor at the end of the fill site," City Manager Harvey advised the Council.

Big Shipment

EVERETT, Wash. (AP) — A 6,000-ton shipment of lumber — described by the Great Northern Railway as the largest single shipment of its kind ever — is on its way to lumber yards in the Midwest and East. A 71-car train and a 60-car train left Washington Sunday and were to be joined at Minot, N.D., today for the trip East.

FIRST TIME IN 30 YEARS

For the first time in over thirty years of business, the Lasnoski Appliance Company will close its doors to the public. Official closing will take place at 12:30 on Thursday, March 3rd.

The people of Escanaba were stunned at this announcement today... Stunned, but happy. For along with the announcement of the closing was the very special statement that a 6 Hour Sale would begin Thursday evening at 5:00 P. M.

Dozens of items, including appliances, television, and stereo will be drastically marked down to make room for new merchandise. Also Lasnoski's warehouse will be cleaned to the walls.

All this takes time, of course, so Lasnoski's will close Thursday afternoon to allow its personnel time to get things ready for this big sale. Robert Hinkely from the General Electric Company will be on hand to help you with their usual friendly service and advice.

The store is yours to roam around in and shop. You are extended a cordial invitation so be sure to stop in.

Closing its doors? Yes, indeed!... For the biggest sale in Lasnoski's 30 years of business.

List Lenten Services At Immanuel

Lent will be observed again this year at Immanuel Lutheran with the traditional mid-week services. These services will be held on Thursday nights at 7:30 instead of Wednesday as was the usual night in the past.

The meditation will center on the reaction of people to Christ as he walked this earth and how our reactions to him are very similar in this 20th Century. The messages of a film-strip series entitled, "In Our Stead," will help portray this more clearly. The weekly themes will be: March 3, "The Messiah;" March 10, "The Betrayers;" March 17, "The Uninvolved;" March 24, "The Proud;" April 7, "The New Covenant." On April 7, two identical services with communion will be held at 6:30 and 7:45.

Thursday, March 31, Immanuel will be host to the Wartburg Seminary Chorus of Dubuque, Iowa. This Seminary is one of three in the American Lutheran Church. The Chorus is making a trip through several states during the Easter season. Good Friday, April 8, the service will be at 1:30 in the afternoon with the meetings centered on the reaction of those who stood at the foot of the Cross.

Easter Sunday there will be a Sunrise Service at 6:30 with a 7:30 a. m. breakfast served by the Senior Luther League. Other Easter Services will be at 9 and 10:40 a. m.

All visitors and friends are cordially invited to attend these services.

Central WSCS Meets Thursday

The W. S. C. S. will meet Thursday at 2:30 p. m. in the church parlors. The Lenten theme of the program is entitled, "The Hydrangea Hat." Taking part will be Mrs. Francis Bolm, Mrs. Burton Butler, Mrs. Stafford LeDuc and Mrs. Sam Cathcart.

A surprise suggestion for a more meaningful observance of the Lenten service will be presented. All members and guests are invited.

Hostesses for this month are, Mrs. Ted Baldwin, Mrs. Kermit Johnson, Mrs. John Gaudin, Mrs. Burton Butler and Mrs. Clifford Frasher.

Social-Club Beta Sigma Phi

Beta Sigma Phi Sorority met last evening at the home of Mrs. Bonnie Grettum. Mrs. Jen O'Leary gave the ritual of jewels to Connie Lorenson during the meeting. Mrs. Bonnie Grettum served the dessert luncheon at the conclusion of the meeting and program.

Isabella Circle Welcomes Four New Members

The regular business meeting of the Daughters of Isabella, Trinity Circle 362 was held Monday at 8 p. m. at the Teamster's Hall with 62 in attendance.

Regent, Mrs. Bessie Rogers called the meeting to order and the prayer was led by Mrs. Irving Cashin. The Auditors report was read by trustee, Mrs. Francis Grey and accepted.

A new password was given and yearbooks were distributed.

Draping of the charter was held for two recently deceased members, Miss Josephine Ryan and Mrs. R. J. Slosson. The hymn was sung by Mrs. Arthur Messier Sr.

A social hour and cards followed the meeting. Lunch was served by chairman, Mrs. Albert Vallind and her committee.

Four new members were introduced and given a short form of initiation: Mesdames, Frank Shepeck Jr., Donald Lewis, Robert Seidl and Julian VanAcker. The next business meeting will be held March 14 with Mrs. George Jerow as chairman.

Perronville

Friday evening, March 4 at St. Michael's Church, confessions will be heard at 7:15 p. m. Stations of the Cross will begin at 8 p. m., followed by the mass.

The Holy Name men of St. Michael's will sponsor a polish sausage feed in the parish hall Sunday, March 27. Everyone is invited.

Anita Marie Bruce Wed To Anthony P. Derkos

Anthony Peter Derkos of 322 N. 20th St. claimed Anita Marie Bruce of 1112 3rd Ave. S. as his bride in a ceremony performed Saturday, Feb. 19 at St. Joseph's Church in Escanaba.

The Rev. Farrell Byers officiated at the double ring nuptials at 11 a. m. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Gerald Bruce of Arnold.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Lillian Bruce of Arnold and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Michael Derkos of Escanaba.

Chantilace

The bride wore a floor length sheath gown of chantilace over taffeta, styled in an empire line and fashioned with a scoop neckline, and elbow length sleeves. The bodice and sleeves were accented with gentle lace ruffling and the removable wateau train was also edged in lace.

Her three tiered elbow length veil was held by a miniature pearl crown atop lace petals with iridescent bud trim. Her only jewelry was a matching crystal necklace and earring set. She carried a cascading arrangement of white carnations centered with pink baby roses.

Maid of honor was Carole Lee of Escanaba and Barbara Terrien of Gladstone was bridesmaid. They were attired in floor length gowns of coral peau with three quarter length sleeves and scoop necklines. Removable wateau panels detailed the back of the gowns. Their circular veils were caught by matching coral open crowns. They carried white carnations and miniature roses in a cascading arrangement.

Serving as best man was Dennis Moreau of Escanaba and Robert Lancour was groomsmen. Seating the guests were Ed Bruce and Mike McCarthy.

Mothers Attire

Mrs. Bruce chose for her daughter's wedding a blue lace suit with matching accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations. Mrs. Derkos wore a blue dress with matching accessories and a carnation corsage complimented her attire.

A reception was held from 4 to 8 p. m. at the Eagles Hall.

'Sounds In Lent' Program At Christ The King

"Sounds in Lent," is the title of the program to be presented at the L. C. W. meeting of Christ the King Lutheran church Thursday, March 3 at 7:45 p. m. at the church.

The program was written by Dr. William O. Mayer to be used especially for women's groups. During each reading great masterpieces of art will be shown on the screen.

The audience will participate in a litany prayer led by Martha Erickson and Mrs. David Dahlquist will be guest soloist. Scripture and prayer will be given by Marilyn Chylek.

Christ the King Lutheran Church women extend an invitation to all women of the community to attend. A social hour will follow and hostesses are, Mrs. C. R. Johnson, Mrs. Verner Johnson, Mrs. Art Klingheil and Mrs. Henry Kobas.

Christ The King Service Tonight

The Wednesday evening Lenten service will begin at 7:30 tonight at Christ the King Lutheran Church on Escanaba's northside. Pastor Carlson's over-all theme is, "Places of the Passion" and tonight's sermon will be, "Through the Cheering Crowd." The Junior Choir will sing, "The Cross Leads On."

Milliken Has Victory Plan

GOP Can't Be Negative

Lieut. Gov. William Milliken told more than 120 diners at a Lincoln Day Delta County dinner at The Terrace Tuesday night that capture of the Michigan State Senate is possible this year.

It's also possible, said the youthful lieutenant governor, for Republicans to capture 12 seats from the Democrats in the House, but this would not give the party control of the lower house of the Legislature. Change of 5 senators would capture the upper house.

Milliken said these are the short range goals of the party in Michigan this year as it girds for the big one in Presidential Year 1968 and that the party also has two great long range goals. They are urban growth and responsible government "that cares about people."

Cities Control

"We have a phenomenon (of urban growth and younger population) that puts over half of our people within a half-hour's drive of Detroit, and which by 1970 will have half of Michigan's population under 25 years of age," said Milliken.

To win we've got to have an imaginative program to solve the problems of the city, because that's where the problems exist—problems of pollution, crime, delinquency, transportation, finances.

"We're proud of the record that we as a party have made in strengthening state and local government. We have reduced departments and agencies of state government from close to 140 to 19 major departments. We are confident that it will provide more efficient and responsible government."

"We had a state deficit in 1962 of $105 million and we've got a surplus in 1966 of close to $125 million and we have increased the level of state services at an unprecedented rate. Michigan is the only state in the nation that has not increased its taxes in the last four years. Half of the total spending of Michigan state government is now for education."

Too Negative

"We must stay close to the people and give them encouragement in solving their own problems. Our State Human Resources Council is encouraging volunteers in government in every way possible."

"Republicans need a broad view of the state and its problems. Too often they have been cast in the role of opposition. Just being negative won't work in the long run. We can't turn the clock back. We must prove that we have a better way to do things. We must place man at the central value in human society and find ways of serving him."

"In Lincoln's Day, Michigan had only 803,000 population and now Detroit alone has one and a half million. We are one of the fastest growing states in the nation, with 200,000 population gain every year. Our problems would have staggered the Legislature of 100 years ago, which was building log roads in Michigan."

Party Decline

"In the first 50 years our party elected every U. S. senator from Michigan and every governor except two. We controlled every legislature except one. People have forgotten how much liberal legislation the Republicans were responsible for. They abolished slavery and wrote the anti-trust laws. They led American diplomacy abroad into a global scope."

"In 1936 Alf Landon carried only two votes and Wendell Willkie carried only 10, but in 1944-46 both houses of Congress and the Michigan Legislature were Republican. Now we are the one-third minority party in Lansing and in Congress. The only way to get back to a position of leadership is to have strong issues, strong candidates, and strong financial backing."

"Bob Griffin is our preferred candidate for the U. S. Senate and I believe he can win the seat this year. This is our year. Governor Romney and I have attended meetings throughout the state and we see outstanding candidates developing. Our task is to convince every man and woman that a vote for the Republican Party is a vote for progress."

Varnum Introduced

"We point with pride to the leadership of Governor Romney. There never was a finer governor in Michigan and my judgment is that he excels every governor in the United States today. There are still dissensions in the party and there should be; there should be free discussions. We have provided loyal and not senseless opposition in the Legislature. We have been liberal in dealing with social and human problems and progressive in dealing with the future; we have been able to change without sacrificing our principles."

Delta County Republican Chairman Arthur Neiman welcomed the diners and Clifford Perras was master of ceremonies. Introduced were Delta GOP committeemen, Mrs. Carl Olson, Gladstone, vice chairman; Miss Mary Woodard, secretary; Jack Tackman, treasurer, and Forrest Henslie, finance chairman.

Charles Varnum, Manistique was introduced as "an unannounced" candidate for the Legislature in the 107th District.

The body is at the Skradski Funeral Home in Gladstone. The funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Tourist Leader Sees Another $1 Billion Year

UDINGTON (AP) — Weather permitting, says Michigan Tourist Council Chairman Wesley Tebeau, the state is on the brink of its second consecutive $1 billion tourist season. Tebeau spoke Tuesday at the Ludington Women's Literary Club. He said western Michigan's share of the 1966 tourist industry million may be approximately $400 million. Cold weather is needed through April to salvage the skiing season, he said, and a hot summer is essential to the billion-dollar forecast.

Voters Reject Salary Boost

MENOMINEE — City voters have rejected proposed charter amendments which would have increased the ceiling for the Mayor's salary to $7,000 and Alderman's salary to $4,000 and made the city treasurer and assessor appointive rather than elective officers.

Vote on the salary question was 1,487 to 1,091. The treasurer-assessor question was defeated 2,087 to 512.

Menominee Mayor John W. Reindl had campaigned strongly for both measures, stating he could not afford to remain as mayor at the present salary of $1,200. Salary for alderman is currently $120 per year.

Had the treasurer-assessor charter amendment passed, the Mayor would have had power to appoint the officers with a three-fifths vote of the council required for confirmation.

Nigeria is the most populous country in Africa, but the 56,400,000 Nigerians are split into nearly 250 tribal groups.

Bible Church Plans Movie On Saturday Night

Nancy

A movie, "A Letter To Nancy" will be shown for the public at 7:30 p. m. Saturday, Mar. 5 at the Bark River Bible Church.

The film is designed for family viewing and looks at modern values in telling the story of a little girl, Nancy Li, who is sheltered by an affluent family and interrupts their complacency by making them aware of the underprivileged of the world.

The film portrays the family's search for new values under the inspiration of Nancy's influence.

Balsam Raised To $22 A Cord

Announcement in late February by Scott Paper Co. that it was raising the price of sapped pulpwood from May 1 to $21 a cord, a $3 hike, was followed today by announcement that it had also raised the price of balsam and spruce pulpwood, effective yesterday, March 1.

Scott and Badger Mills, Ltd., of Peshtigo both have posted a new price of $22 a cord for balsam on cars, and $28 for spruce. Scott has mills at Marinette and Oconto Falls, Wis., that take Upper Peninsula wood.

The price increase on balsam was the second by Badger since October. The price of balsam was $20 a cord going into the fall and it was raised to $21, and $27 for spruce, on Nov. 1.

Producers who truck their wood to the mill instead of putting it on cars for rail delivery get an additional $1.50 a cord.

Boddy's Team Tops Eagles In First Tourney Contest

Norway Foe In Finals At Esky Friday Night

By RAY CRANDALL
(Press Sports Editor)

Coach Fred Boddy's Marquette Baraga Royals made it look easy Tuesday night as they knocked the Stephenson Eagles out of Class C tournament competition in the district opener at Escanaba High School, 68-56.

The well oiled Royal cage machine was in complete charge throughout the contest, leading from the opening minute and challenged only briefly midway in the second period.

Marquette Baraga carried a flossy 18-1 record into the tournament and it was apparent that the Royals deserved their lofty No. 1 rating in the state Associated Press Class C final ratings.

Stephenson, champion of the new Great Northern Conference this season, owner of a 13-3 record and a team that rubbed shoulders through the regular campaign with Class A and B powerhouses, never got untracked against the clever Parochial quint.

The Royals rang up the first six points in the game, led 19-15 at the end of the first quarter, 36-24 at halftime and padded their margin to as much as 17 points in the third stanza.

If there was a single point in the game when the Eagles

Rae Drake

Drake Joins Dotsch Staff At Northern

MARQUETTE — Rae Drake, head football coach at Kingsford High School for the past 13 seasons, has been named assistant football coach at Northern Michigan University.

Roland Dotsch, NMU head football coach, said Drake "comes to Northern with 15 years' experience as a highly successful coach and teacher."

F. L. (Frosty) Ferzacca, NMU's athletic director and former head football coach, said Drake is "an outstanding coach, has the qualifications to be a successful college coach, and we're very happy to have him on our staff."

Pending his release from the Breitung Township Board of Education and approval of his position by the NMU Board of Control, Drake is expected to assume his duties in April.

Drake, 39, has been head coach at Kingsford since 1953. His teams compiled an enviable record of 77 wins and 29 losses, won or tied for eight conference championships (seven Menominee Range crowns and one Great Northern title) and amassed winning streaks of 21 and 15 games. Kingsford also won three Upper Peninsula high school grid championships.

Drake was named the Upper Peninsula's coach of the year in 1956 after his team compiled a 7-1 record.

A graduate of Michigan State University, Drake's first coaching assignment was at Hart (Mich.) High School in 1951. In two seasons, his teams won 14 of 16 games and one conference championship. He assumed the Kingsford post after leaving Hart.

In addition to his coaching background, Drake, who earned his master's degree at Northern in 1960, has been a chemistry and physics instructor.

He is a native of Stambaugh and a graduate of Stambaugh High School.

Drake is married to the former Carol Stevens of Hart and the father of five children, Monica, 12, Virginia, 10, Rae, Jr., 8, Paul, 6, and Amy, one month.

Sovey Beaten In Milwaukee Golden Gloves

Terry Sovey, Escanaba open division lightweight, lost a decision to Mel Caldwell of Neopit in the Wisconsin Golden Gloves championship tournament at Milwaukee this week.

Sovey had qualified for the finals by scoring a pair of decisions in the district tournament at Fond du Lac last week.

Carney, Powers Win Openers In Class D Action

Tuesday Results
Carney 79, Alpha 68
Powers 69, Bark River 60
Games Thursday
7:00—Felch vs. Powers
8:30—Hermansville vs. Carney

POWERS-SPALDING — The host Powers-Spalding Tigers and the Carney Wolves survived early firing in the Class D district basketball tournament which opened here Tuesday night.

Coach Tom Lequia's P-S eagles used the free throw line as a springboard to a 69-60 decision over Bark River-Harris. Coach Bob Kuntze's Carney quint ripped Alpha, 79-68.

The winners advance to Thursday night's semifinal competition with Powers meeting Felch and Carney playing Hermansville.

Outscored by one field goal, 27-26, Powers-Spalding cashed in on 17 of 24 opportunities from the charity line to turn back a stubborn Bark River-Harris crew. The Broncos were able to convert only 6 of 17 chances from the line.

Both teams were torrid from the floor with the Tigers connecting on 50 per cent of their 32 shots and the Broncos even hotter with 52 per cent on 27 of 51 attempts.

The Tigers turned in a solid game on the boards, outrebounding the Broncos 41 to 31. Bill Hawrylow hauled down 12 for the winners while Pat Sagataw was a Bronco standout with 18.

The Tigers broke for a 19-9 lead in the first period and Bark River struggled through the game to make up the deficit. The Broncos pulled within two points early in the fourth quarter but were unable to maintain the pace in the stretch. David Smith led the winners with 27 points and Jim Hooker paced the Broncos with 22. Carney took command early in the game against Alpha and pulled out to a 43-24 halftime advantage before coasting home with an 11-point triumph.

The Wolves connected on 31 of 72 shots from the field and 17 of 25 from the line. Four Carney players scored in double figures, led by Brian Forrester with 20 points. He also snatched 17 rebounds. Mel Buckmaster tossed in 14 points, Doug Benson 19 and Lester Laurin 12 for the Wolves.

Favor Spartans In Track Meet

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State, runnerup to Wisconsin by half a point last year, is a fractional favorite to take the indoor Big Ten track title here this weekend.

Wisconsin edged MSU 46 to 45½ last year although each won four individual titles. Michigan placed third with 24 points.

Michigan State has won a pair of dual meets and one triangular encounter without a loss. Included was a 73-68 defeat of Wisconsin last Saturday, decided by a Spartan victory in a triangular and has won two dual and one triangular meet.

The 56th annual running of the indoor event will open Friday night at Jensen Fieldhouse with preliminaries in nine events and the finals of the long jump. All other finals will be Saturday afternoon.

Piston Loss String Is Finally Snapped

By The Associated Press
Bouncing back from six consecutive losses, including two straight shellackings at the hands of lowly New York, the Detroit Pistons won one Tuesday night.

The Pistons, trailing in the Western Division of the National Basketball Association with a 20-51 season record, drubbed Baltimore, No. 2 in the west, 122-110 in a Madison Square Garden doubleheader.

In the second game, host New York bowed to San Francisco 114-112. Other NBA games saw Boston whip St. Louis 120-95 and Cincinnati down Philadelphia 102-100.

The Pistons host San Francisco and Rick Barry today. Barry set an NBA record for rookie forwards in the New York encounter. His 27 points brought his season total to 1,766—breaking Elgin Baylor's mark of 1,742.

In the opening contest, Eddie Miles sparked a third period rally that helped the Pistons, who trailed by as many as 18 in the first half, even their record with Baltimore at 5-5.

The Pistons outscored the Bulls 36-19 in the third quarter for an 84-80 lead and pulled away in the final period. Miles topped Detroit with 28 points and Kevin Loughery had 21 for Baltimore.

Barrie, fourth in the league in scoring, contributed eight for 17 from the floor, 10 rebounds and five assists to the Warrior effort.

Oscar Robertson scored 40 for Cincinnati, including the decisive jumper with three seconds left. The loss dropped Philadelphia 2½ games back of Boston in the Eastern Division race.

Connecticut Is Surprise Quint In Yankee Circuit

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Only a few weeks ago the Connecticut Huskies were considered out of the running for the Yankee Conference championship and a berth in the NCAA college basketball tourney opening next Monday.

Today the Uconnns are tied with Rhode Island for first place in the conference and are favored to beat the Rhodies in a playoff Friday for the right to play Davidson at Philadelphia Monday in the first round of the NCAA.

The Huskies gained the first place tie with Rhode Island by beating the Rhodies 96-74 Tuesday night for their 10th victory in their last 11 games. The luck of the Uconnns continued after the game. They won the toss of a coin to determine the site of the playoff. It will be Connecticut's home court at Storrs, also the site of Tuesday's game.

It appears that there also will be playoffs in the Big Eight and the Southwest Conference to gain NCAA berths.

Ninth-ranked Nebraska, the only team in The Associated Press Top Ten to see action, whipped Kansas State at home 79-69 and tied Kansas for the lead in the Big Eight.

Both have two games left to play. If a playoff is needed, it will be next Wednesday, March 9, at a neutral site still to be decided.

Texas A&M, also playing at home, whipped Baylor 95-78 behind John Beasley's 37 points and tied Southern Methodist for the lead in the SWC. Each has one game to play. The playoff, if necessary, will be at Waco, Tex., on Monday with the winner meeting the Big Eight representative at Lubbock, Tex., March 11.

Penn won its first Ivy League championship in 13 years by defeating Princeton 56-48 in Philadelphia, but whether the Quakers will play in the NCAA still is undecided because of the controversy over the NCAA's rule on a 1.6 academic average. If Penn does play, the Quakers will oppose Syracuse on Monday at Blacksburg, Va.

Holy Cross upset the NIT-bound St. John's University Redmen 63-60, snapping a 17-game winning streak for St. John's.

Two other tourney-selected teams, Houston in the NCAA and De Paul in the NIT, won. Houston won on the road over New Orleans Loyola 103-77. De Paul crushed Steubenville at home 101-67.

In other home court triumphs, Cornell beat Columbia 84-73, Yale downed Brown 77-64, Wichita whipped Southern Illinois 87-80, Drake took Valparaiso in overtime 78-74, Villanova drubbed Seton Hall 91-67, Texas Tech defeated Rice 90-74 and Texas edged Arkansas 74-70.

On the road, Harvard beat Dartmouth 64-62 and St. Bonaventure defeated Kent State 65-56.

Northern Wins Tourney Game

—MOUNT PLEASANT (P)—Northern Michigan trimmed Michigan 75-61 and Central Michigan swamped Hillsdale 80-60 in NAIA National District 23 basketball Tuesday night.

Northern and Central meet tonight for the right to play in the NAIA national tourney at Kansas City next week.

Northern averaging 108.5 points a game, was slowed by Aquinas' ball control style but won with the aid of Gene Summers' 22 points. Dennis Alexander led Aquinas with 21.

Central's Don Edwards scored 22 and Hillsdale's Marshall McGee 19.

Triple Overtime Tourney Opener In Class D Game

Dick Molesworth may never become president of the United States, but he'll remember Tuesday night as long as he lives.

Molesworth's free throw gave Peck a 73-72 Class D victory in the state high school basketball tournament in a triple overtime thriller.

The opponent, Kingston figured to beat Peck. But it was 57-57 at the end of regulation time, 62-62 after the first overtime and 66-66 after the second.

The victory kept Peck hopes alive in the tourney. Jack Judge led the winners with 23 points. Randy Lyons scored 27 for Kingston.

The rated teams in the Class B-C and D Associated Press basketball poll performed as expected.

Second-ranked South Haven picked up its 17th victory against one loss in Class B action by bombing Stevensville Lakeshore 90-76. Kennedy MacIntosh scored 23 points for the victors.

Pellston, rated eighth in Class D, wallowed Alanson 105-65, with John Reed netting 35 points, and Grand Rapids South Christian, Michigan's top rated Class B quintet, pounded out an 81-39 victory over Caledonia. Bill Bonnama notched 18 points for the winners.

Hamtramck St. Ladislaus, ranked No. 10 in Class B, bumped Detroit Salesian 60-39. In a Class C upset, Shelby, considered a top contender, fell to Scottville 54-38.

Mount Morris accomplished something in Class B action that it was unable to do during the regular season—win a game. It took overtime to do it, but Mount Morris defeated Bridgeport 61-58 in overtime.

It was the first victory in 17 games for Mount Morris. Tom Baldwin topped the victors with

Miller's Free Throws Win For Clippers In Overtime Cage Clash

MANISTIQUE—Art Miller, 5 foot 8 inch junior stepped to the free throw line in a pressure-packed situation here Tuesday night and lobbed in a pair of gift shots to give Cooks an 81-80 edge over Engadine in overtime in the opening game of the Class D district basketball tournament.

Coach Norman Jahn's Clippers barely escaped defeat in regulation time when Neil Hartman's jump shot swished the nets at the final buzzer to tie the score at 75-75.

It was an uphill battle all the way as Coach Rod Carlson's Engadine Eagles smelled an upset in the making. The teams had met in the first game of the regular season with Cooks scoring a 79-47 decision. The Clippers went on to win 15 of 19 starts.

Engadine moved out in front by a 26-22 margin in the first frame but Cooks stormed back to deadlock it at the half, 38-

38. From there on in it was nip-and-tuck with Engadine snatching a two point lead, 75-73, with 10 seconds to go in the game. That set the stage for Hartman's final second shot that sent it into overtime.

Miller had come off the Cooks bench as a reserve in the second quarter and aided the Clippers with his ball hawking style of play. He contributed nine points, including the two that decided the outcome.

Milwaukee Baseball Trial Steams Ahead

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Wisconsin was expected to begin prosecuting its antitrust suit against baseball today as the trial moved into phase No. 3 following a rapid series of developments that brought the case sharply into focus.

The state planned to begin introducing testimony and questioning witnesses in an attempt to prove that baseball violated Wisconsin's antitrust statutes by moving the Braves from Milwaukee to Atlanta.

It was not known what witnesses might be called but it was learned that Bill Veeck, a former secretary-treasurer of the Braves, has been subpoenaed to testify.

The way was cleared Tuesday for the trial to proceed when legal fencing over 188 documents to be presented in evidence finally ended.

There, before a packed room of 150 onlookers, the 17 legal experts and a jury box filled with reporters, the opposing attorneys made their opening remarks and clearly defined the issues in the case.

Earl Jinkinson, attorney for the Braves, said Wisconsin's suit could "lead to the utter destruction and ruin" of the sport and "could be the death knell of baseball."

Jinkinson said the "court cannot effectively order them (the Braves) back to Milwaukee."

questioned the jurisdiction of the court in the case and said the move of the Braves was authorized by the National League because of poor fan support, financial losses and a hostile press.

Willard Stafford, special counsel for the state, countered in his opening statement that the Braves were moved because "some young men borrowed too much money and had to make money in a hurry to stay in baseball."

He said he was asking Circuit Judge Elmer W. Roller to order the Braves returned to Milwaukee "screaming or otherwise," unless or until the National League assigns a new franchise to the city.

Stafford also said he would ask the court to find that the antitrust laws have been violated by the National League and its 10 members, and that forfeitures be ordered against the defendants.

And there were also these other developments:

— The opposing legal teams agreed that the closely guarded salary secrets of the 10 National League clubs involved would be kept from public view by clearing the court room when such figures are used in arguments.

— Judge Roller denied a series of motions offered by National League attorneys, including a request by baseball attorneys to amend their answers to the state's complaint.

Defense counsel had tried to get before the court rulings by Georgia and Texas judges who had ordered the Braves to play the 1966 season in Atlanta. In denying the motion, the court noted it was not precluding later introduction of any evidence "material to certain issues in the case."

Judge Roller also denied a motion for adjournment until July 1 and a motion to restrict trial issues to the basic allegation that the move of the Braves violates Wisconsin's Little Sherman Act.

Cazzie Named Player Of Year

By BILL HALLS
ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — The 14-year-old kid was playing catch with a baseball at Chicago's Carver High School when Larry Hawkins spotted him.

Hawkins, a teacher and basketball coach, watched a while. Then he pulled the kid out of the gym class.

"You're not going to get a scholarship playing baseball," Hawkins told the boy. "Let's try basketball."

The boy, who still has ambitions to play baseball, is Cazzie Lee Russell Jr., named College Basketball's Player of the Year by The Associated Press Tuesday.

"I hardly know what to say," said Russell when told of his selection while student-teaching at an Ann Arbor school. "I'm grateful. I hope I'm deserving of such an award."

Russell, who became the first player in Michigan history to score 2,000 points Monday when the Wolverines whipped Iowa 103-88, was quick to change the subject from himself to the team.

"I just hope we can win the Big Ten, and we're working real hard on that," he said, adding: "Then we can go for the big prize — the NCAA."

Russell has made All-Big Ten and All-America, but Michigan has never come closer than second in the NCAA title run.

Russell has other ambitions, including teaching, coaching, and radio broadcasting.

His 31 points against Iowa Monday gave him 2,029 for three varsity years at Michigan. The old mark of 1,725 was held by Bill Buntin, now with the Detroit Pistons. Russell also holds the season mark, 694 so far this year with two games to go.

But his value to Michigan's basketball fortunes are more intricate. Coach Dave Strack thinks Russell should shoot more, but can't find serious fault with his 6-foot-5½ inch superstar.

The 225-pound, 21-year-old senior asked Strack what to work on during the summer after his junior year.

"Just show up next fall," quipped Strack.

Russell had 75 college scholarship offers when he graduated from Carver. He decided on Michigan mostly because of Strack, who impressed Russell's father, Cazzie Sr.

Cazzie, an intense young man, whose machine gun conversation is spiced with humor, puts it differently.

"I watched Michigan on TV, and they were so bad I thought they needed help," he says.

Russell often goes to Yost Fieldhouse to practice shooting after church on Sundays.

His mother raised Cazzie and four brothers and sisters in the Baptist church, taking them by bus on Sunday mornings. Russell sings in baritone in the St. Paul Missionary Baptist choir on Sundays.

Russell said he hopes to stick in pro basketball for eight or nine years before turning to coaching or broadcasting.

Heavyweight Title Bout Tied In Legal Cobwebs

CHICAGO (AP) — The Illinois Athletic Commission, ensnared in a growing cobweb of legal obstacles, apparently is left with two alternatives in another emergency meeting today re-Terrell fight.

They are:

1. Outright cancellation of the scheduled heavyweight title bout in Chicago March 29.
2. A time-consuming public hearing delving into the possibility of renewing fight licenses for promoter Irv Schoenwald and for Clay and Terrell.

Illinois State Attorney General William G. Clark, in a six-page directive to chairman Joe Triner of the commission, in essence said new licenses would have to be approved.

He pointed out that another look must be given to Terrell after the New York Athletic Commission refused to grant him a license on the grounds that he once had associations with Bernie Glickman of Chicago, alleged associate of hoodlums.

Clark said another look must be given to Clay because he "has made statements that he was unwilling to serve in the Armed Forces of the United States, and would take action to avoid the draft."

Clark said a look must be made at Schoenwald's license to promote since there are some technicalities involved such as expiration of his license March 22, a week before the fight, and expiration of his bond March 9.

Renewal of the license for Schoenwald, who has held one in the state for 32 years, is a simple procedure.

But the other look at licenses for Clay and Terrell becomes a problem.

"Even if all objections can be cured," said Clark, "there still is the burning issue of acts detrimental to boxing. If the commission holds a hearing — and it is required if plans to hold the fight in Illinois continue — it will then be up to the commission to determine if such a fight would be in the best interests of the public of Illinois."

Section 23 of the Illinois Sports Act provides that a licensee "shall be a person of good and stable moral character not likely to engage in acts detrimental to the public or to honestly conducted boxing matches."

"The issuance of a license to participate in a boxing match is a privilege granted by the State of Illinois; it is not a right," said Clark. "I affirm the right of an individual to hold whatever beliefs he may choose. There are few restrictions or limitations on the right of an individual to publicly express these beliefs."

"However, freedom of speech or expression is not the issue here. The narrow points of the inquiry are these:

1. Whether Mr. Clay's statements relating to the draft indicate a present intention to violate United States Selective Service laws and is an action detrimental to the public.
2. Whether Mr. Terrell's statements before the New York Athletic Commission, and its rejection of his license application, indicate that his Illinois license should be further reviewed by the Illinois Commission."

OUR BOARDING HOUSE with Major Hoople OUT OUR WAY

by J. R. Williams

Gladstone News

Drama Club Play Friday

The Gladstone High School Dramatics Club will present "A Young Man's Fancy" at the High School Gym Friday at 8 p. m. Tickets may be purchased at the door or from any member of the cast.

The play, which is being presented under the direction of David Scherff, tells the story of a young boy whose parents have not permitted him to develop into a normal boy. He is sent to a progressive camp and is very miserable until he learns to fend for himself. After borrowing a book on love and courtship he matures so rapidly that his parents try to persuade him to return home but young Dickie Crandall has a few ideas of his own.

Ned Vanders is the student director.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. I. S. Willis, 1302 Dakota Ave., returned Monday from Tampa, Fla. where they vacationed for the past three weeks. While in Florida they visited Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Aasve in Lakeland.

Mrs. Axel Carlson, 721 Montana Ave., has returned to her home after visiting her daughter, Mrs. Paul Miller, in Indianapolis and her sister in Chicago.

Second Vote On New Gymnasium Slated Monday

The Gladstone Board of Education will go to its voters again Monday in an effort to secure approval to bond an additional $75,000 to complete financing on the proposed new physical education building.

Plan 1,800 Seats

The estimated $25,000 cost of installing new boilers is not included in the bond issue proposal. Financing will come from the building and site fund where a reserve had accumulated for this purpose, Cameron said.

Estimated cost of the physical education building, exclusive of the heating system, is $375,000.

The new building will provide a gymnasium with an 1,800 seating capacity, girls locker and shower rooms, a boys team locker room, staff offices, an all-sports deck, storage, concession stand, public toilets and a foyer.

Cost to each taxpayer is estimated to be 50 cents on each $1,000 assessed valuation, Cameron reported.

The entire community was disappointed when bids for the proposed new building were opened Jan. 13," said Wallace Cameron, superintendent of schools. "The economic picture had changed drastically in the six-month period between planning and bidding dates."

"The cost of the total contract was above $75,000 in excess of the $300,000 allotted for the project."

Included in plans for the building is replacement of the present heating system of the school. Cameron pointed out that boilers currently in use are 44 years old.

Bids Disappointing

The vote will be the second in Gladstone in an attempt to gain financing for the new building. A $300,000 bond issue was approved last summer, but when contractor's bids were received the sum was inadequate to cover construction costs.

"The entire community was disappointed when bids for the proposed new building were opened Jan. 13," said Wallace Cameron, superintendent of schools. "The economic picture had changed drastically in the six-month period between planning and bidding dates."

"The cost of the total contract was above $75,000 in excess of the $300,000 allotted for the project."

Included in plans for the building is replacement of the present heating system of the school. Cameron pointed out that boilers currently in use are 44 years old.

spring knits -
our new variety
$15 to $23

Here are new blooms from our garden of double knits. The fabric is a transplant, Crimplene® polyester imported from England. The dresses are all-American double knits in easy lines, zingy colors and best-of-the-season styles. Because they're Crimplene®, they come in a variety of exciting textures, keep their shapes. What's more, each one is washable, needs little or no ironing.

First Lutheran Lenten Services Are Scheduled

Lenten Services at First Lutheran Church will include midweek service each Wednesday beginning at 7:30 p. m. The theme for the series is "In Our Stead," and each service will include a colored film on the theme of the evening.

"The Messiah," will be shown March 2; "The New Covenant," March 9; "The Betrayers," March 16; "The Proud," March 23 and "The Uninvolved," March 30.

A Lenten Retreat will be held Thursday beginning at 1:15 p. m. Silent and spoken meditations will be centered on prayer. The session will conclude at 4 p. m. with time for a coffee break at 2:30 p. m.

Women from Bark River, Escanaba, Rapid River and Manistiquette have been invited. All those planning to attend are asked to bring their Bibles.

Mayor Names City Boards

Appointments to the Planning Commission, the Board of Examiners and the Housing Commission were announced by Mayor Frank Stupak at the regular meeting of the City Commission Monday evening.

The Planning Commission appointments were Reuben Sjoquist, John DeMay, Tom Davis and Walfrid Lindberg. These men will replace Elmer Caron, William Noreus, Fred Schram and Robert Snyder.

The Board of Examiners consists of Leonard S. Vincent, Gus DeHooghe, Ragner Kallerson, Paul Goodman and Stanley Petrovich.

Housing Commission appointments are Mike LaPine, Arne Anderson, John Tackman, John Zimmerman, and Alcott Erickson. The commission will visit some of the Housing Projects located in the Upper Peninsula.

Matson's Camp Struck Again

A cottage owned by Edwin Matson of Chicago was struck again by the camp bandits of Delta County. State Police reported today.

Troopers said Matson went to the cottage to replace the lock broken in the previous breaking and entering and discovered the building had been entered again. The camp is located on Co. Rd. 499 near Squaw Point in Nahma Township.

The second break in at Matson's cottage brings to 11 the number of camp breakings and enterings which have been reported in Delta County since Saturday. State Police and Delta County Sheriff's officers are continuing investigations.

Taken from Matson's camp in the second breaking was a flashlight-lantern and a box of cigars, police said.
